I then put myself under the treatment of the said Doctor Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 7 complete weeks for me. As each week progressed the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course, in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a diabetes specialist in name but a specialist indeed in reality. My Sp. Gr. which was 1032 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of sugar per ounce of urine fell down from 24 to nil while sediments were not at all visible.

SCINDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO.

PURCHASE OF BRITISH SHIPPING CONCERN.

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK.

The first ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the Scindia Steam Navigation Company was held on Saturday at its registered office, Ismail Building, Fort, Mr. Narottam Morarji presiding.

The Directors' report for the year ended 30th June, 1920, has already appeared in the press.

As the decline in the rate of this scrip in the Share Market has caused a general excitement, the attendance of the shareholders at the meeting was very large. The proceedings were in the vernacular. All throughout the proceedings great excitement prevailed, which at times culminated in rowdyism and it was with difficulty that the business of the meeting was conducted.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

In moving the adoption of the report the chairman said:—

The s.s. "Loyalty" was converted last year from a hospital ship into a passenger boat. This necessitated considerable expenditure in London owing to the high cost of materials and labour. She has been since plying between Bombay, Marseilles and Genoa with passengers and cargo. It is common knowledge that during the last few months the working costs have considerably gone up, while the price of coal has become simply prohibitive. These factors have very largely affected the profits of passenger boats and I think many of you must have recently read in papers that big passenger liners had the misfortune to lose more than £10,000 on a single round trip. I am sorry to say that the s.s. "Loyalty" has also shared this misfortune, but I need not observe that this has been receiving the careful consideration of your Directors with a view to economy.

Since the close of the financial year she has made another voyage to Marseilles and Genoa and although the results can so far only be estimated, I have reason to hope that they show an improvement.

I have also to draw your attention to the preliminary and organisation expenses which have exceeded the estimate amount owing to the high cost of paper and printing, the decision of the Board to issue one certificate for each share and the organisation expenses.

I am glad to inform you that your Directors were able to buy all the shares of the Palace Shipping Co., Ld., which owned six large cargo boats with an aggregate tonnage of 46,000 D. W. tons. This transaction has cost them one million pounds out of which, as shown in the accounts, they have had £910,291-18-4 at 1/11.5/32 amounting to Rs. 94,34,604-7-8. The balance will be adjusted when the liquidation proceedings of the Palace Shipping Co., Ltd. will be over. The transaction required very careful handling which necessitated the presence of one of your Directors in London. The Palace Shipping Co., being a British registered company, is liable to British Income-Tax, Excess Profits Duty and Corporation Tax Consequently a large sum was provided by that Company to meet those payments before declaring the ad-interim dividend which has been shown in the Balance Sheet. Consequently, para 3 line 5 "payments made there under etc." should be read as "the amount provided thereunder." I am, however, to add that one of your Directors, Mr. Ratansi D. Morarji returned from London in September after getting six boats transferred to the Scindia Steam Navigation Co. You will also be pleased to learn that two of the three boats which have now completed their old charters have already arrived in India, and have already been fixed for some voyages from Calcutta to Bombay which show a fair profit.

The price of tonnage has come down considerably during recent months, and your Directors are advised from London that a further reduction in price is probable in the near future. Your Directors are therefore of opinion that the Company's fleet should not be extended until they see a more favourable opportunity. This matter as also the question of the extension of the Company's operations and the fleet's trade is receiving the closest consideration of your Directors in consultation with the expert who recently arrived from England. I am, however, sure you will agree with me in this that it is now in the best interests of the shareholders to disclose the probable future policy of the Company at this stage.

Lastly I may add that the Agents, in view of the initial operations of the Company have decided to forego, as a special case, their full commission of Rs. 61,908-5-[illegible] ly, this amount will be cre[illegible] rent year's account. (Applau[illegible] remarks I propose that the Dir[illegible] and audited statement of accounts he[illegible]

SIR D. WATCHA'S SUPPORT.

In seconding the resolution, Sir Dinshaw Wacha said that within the last 18 months several industries had been started in India. Some of those companies had been working satisfactorily and two of them had made their names in the country. One of them was the Sugar Company belonging to the Tatas. The speaker had repeatedly spoken on public platforms to encourage the sugar and the steamship industries which were essential in this country. He was not going to speak about the Tatas' company because it was a paying concern in the future. The Indian seaborne trade done by Indians in their own ships was an old one. It was carried as far as the Red Sea. There were, many persons who were doing shipping business a century ago in India. The Dadysheth family among the Parsis was one of them. They had four ships and they traded as far as China. But owing to the competition by Englishmen the Indian enterprise failed. In 1855, the Cama family also opened a Navigation Company but during the great share mania period it failed. From these instances they could see that Indians were doing shipping business. The Scindia Company was therefore established to develop this industry in India and he assured them that they would eventually gain. This industry was in its infancy and such companies would not be expected to make big profits during the first couple of years. The P. and O. Company started its business only with four steamers, and after a period of 75 years it had now made its name. They had among their Directors experienced persons like Mr. Stewart and he thought the Company would be a first class company in a few years. If the shareholders would not support this industry then they would have to suffer.

QUERIES AND ANSWERS?

Before the motion for adoption was put to vote the chairman said he would be willing to give any explanation that the shareholders might require

A Hindu shareholders asked that since the "Loyalty" was built as long as thirty years ago what was the cause that it still did not yield profit.

The chairman assured him that its boilers and engines were in good order and it would show profit even in competition with the P. and O. and other European companies.

Mr. A. M. Jiwanji one of the Directors said that the "Loyalty" was able to compete with any steamer of the same type. He advised the shareholders not to become impatient. They had started a steamship company on a large scale, and if it did not make a large profit, that was due not to mismanagement but to circumstances over which they had no control. He asked the audience to take a broader view of the matter. To develop Indian industries they had started the Company, and if they put it on a firm footing it would give them large dividends. They should remember that well-known British steamship companies did not pay a dividend of more than 5 per cent., and yet their shareholders were satisfied because they knew that they were promoting the trade of their own country.

A shareholder questioned that the Palace Company owned seven cargo steamers while the Directors had shown only six in the report. Therefore, what had happened to the seventh steamer.

The Chairman said that Company had only six steamers and no more. If the questioner wanted to satisfy himself he should refer the Lloyds' Register.

Another shareholder pointed out that the passenger money and the freight earned by "Loyalty" ought to have been shown in the report.

The Chairman said if they were to give such details then the size of the report would be larger than the Lloyds' Register.

Another question was then put to elicit information about the fees that were paid to the auditors, Directors, and solicitors.

The Hon. Mr. Lallubhai Samaldas replied that Rs. 4,500 were paid to two auditors, Rs. 11,550 to the Directors and Rs. 1,125 to solicitors.

A Parsi shareholder enquired whether expert opinion was taken before entering in the fixed capital expenditure account the sum of Rs. 10,49,653 which was spent in converting the "Loyalty" from a hospitalship into a first class passenger-ship.

The reply was that one Mr. Proctor was consulted who was an expert.

After some further discussion the report was adopted by a majority. Sir D. E. Wacha, Mr. S. R. Romanji, Mr. C. A. Latiff and Mr. C. E. Randle were confirmed as Directors.

Two of the Directors, Sir Dinshaw E Wacha and Mr. Walchand Hirachand who retired by rotation were re-elected, and Messrs. S. B. Billimoria and K. S. Aiyar were elected auditors for the ensuing year.

The remuneration of the auditors was then fixed at Rs. 3,500 Mr. C. I. Parekh objected that they should not be paid so much and moved an amendment that they be paid only Rs. 2,000. The amendment was carried.

The meeting was then dissolved.

Mr. V. S. Srinivasa Sastri addressed a large gathering of public at Tellicherry on the subject of reforms on the 17th instant.

It is stated that Colonel Wedgewood is not coming to Madras as he has originally intended before 3rd January.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometer:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 0 deg. F., and to the level of the tide as 6-42 a.m. Standard Time on the 20th Nov. 1920 was 30·020 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by 0·15 inch. for every 5 deg. according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid the temperature correction is needed but for comparison at 80 deg. ... aneroid readings should be increased by 1·38 inc... for correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide in the stream at 6·42 a.m., Standard Time the ship's barometer readings should be increased by 0·10 inch ... for every 16 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

...R SCHOOL-...G EXAMINATION.

PROPOSAL FOR ABOLITION.

A meeting of the Senate of the University of Bombay was held on Friday, Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, Vice-Chancellor, presiding.

Consideration was given to a proposal to split up the Board of Studies in Sanskrit and allied languages into two separate Boards, one representing the classical languages and the other the vernaculars.

The Hon. Sir Lallubhai A. Shah moved, as recommended by the Syndicate, an alteration in regulation 31 relating to the Faculty of Arts by which the Board of Studies was split up into two, one for Sanskrit, Pali, Ardha-Mazadhi, Avesta and Pahlavi, and the other for Marathi, Gujarati and Kanarese.

The proposition was agreed to.

F. S. BHAVNAGRI SCHOLARSHIP.

The Senate considered a proposal to amend the regulations relating to the Framji Sorabji Bhavnagri Scholarship so as to make it obligatory on the scholar to appear at the B. A. examination in the optional group of language with Anesta and Pahlavi as one of the languages constituting the group.

On the motion of Sir Temulji B. Nariman, the regulation relating to the scholarship was modified to give effect to the proposal.

Dr. A. G. Viegas moved the addition of Portuguese to the list of second languages recognised for the First Arts, Intermediate, B. A. (Pass) and M. A. examinations.

Dr. Viegas said Portuguese was spoken by several thousand people in British India. It was the only European language that had become a vernacular of this country.

The resolution was passed.

AGE LIMIT FOR SCHOOL LEAVING EXAMINATION.

The Senate also considered a proposal to abolish the limit of age for admission to the School Leaving Examination, the limit being sixteen years.

The Hon. Mr. R. P. Paranjpye moved, as recommended by the Syndicate, that the regulation relating to age-limit be deleted; that Government be requested to assent to this modification of the regulations relating to the School-Leaving Examinations thus amended be brought into operation in the year 1922.

Mr. Paranjpye said the question of age-limit for the Matriculation Examination had a history. There were periods when there had been no age-limit, and statistics for those periods showed that a vast majority of candidates were over 16 years, and only a very small number below that age. The latter were promising and deserving students and it mattered much if they had to wait a year or two. It would hamper them in their future career, as for instance, in their resolution to appear at the I. C. S. examination.

Mr. K. Subramaniam Aiyar seconded the proposition.

The Vice-Chancellor suggested that as the question was a very important one and as the time before them was short, further consideration of the subject should be adjourned.

On the motion of Sir N. G. Chandavarkar, further consideration of the motion was adjourned till the next Senate meeting.

ISLAMIA COLLEGE SITUATION

AGITATION AGAINST PRINCIPAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, Nov. 19.

Further particulars have been received regarding the situation in the Islamia College, Lahore, which show that on the 16th inst. when the College reopened the Principal called some of the students who have been taking active art in disturbing the peace of the college. Eight students were asked to withdraw peacefully from the college with leaving certificates, but all refused. So the Principal with concurrence of the College Committee suspended them. The same evening a meeting was held outside Delhi Gate at which it was resolved that Mr. Martin, principal, and Mr. Fazal Hussain, College Secretary, should be asked to resign. On the 17th instant the eight suspended students came to the College and attended the lectures, whereupon they were turned out. This created an excitement among the students. They then entered the Principal's office, abused him and threatened him to turn out from the College. Sir Zulfiqar Ali Khan and Chaudhri Shahabuddin who were presen in the Principal's room tried to quiet the students, but failed and the college had to be closed for the day. The College Committee met in the evening to discuss the situation. They decided to carry on the work of the college in spite of excitement among the students and applied to the Deputy Commissioner of Police for protection. disagreed with the College Committee's decision and submitted his resignation of Secretaryship of the General Council. When the college opened on the 18th morning, a police force of 20 men under an inspector and sub-inspector were on duty in college but majority of students had declared strike and refused to attend lectures. So the college had to close again for the day. Present agitation in Islamia College is directed against the Principal and is not directly connected with Non-Cooperation. Students want the Principal to resign at once and demand the withdrawal of the expulsion order passed against certain fellow students for taking active part in the agitation.

PRINCIPAL'S NOTICE ON DR. KITCHLEW

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, Nov. 18.

The situation in the Islamia College has become worse to-day. The students did not attend the College, and have declared a strike. The police are guarding the College and hostel. Resentment is expressed by the students against the Principal, for the disciplinary action taken by him against some of them who took an active part in the Khilafat agitation, and who persistently disobeyed his orders. The Principal served the following notice on Dr. Kitchlew to-day:—"You have taken possession of Habibia Hall, of the Islamia College, without any permission from the College authorities. As being the officer in lawful charge of the College, I hereby request you to leave the Hall and College premises with your followers."

Dr. Kitchlew has sent the following reply:—"I am in receipt of your notice, dated the 18th November, which was handed over to me by a Police Officer. Your allegation that I have taken possession of Habibia Hall without permission of the College authorities is absolutely false, as I have never entered the College Hall nor have I asked the students to assemble therein. I have no intention of disturbing the management, but as a member of the General Council I have every right to come into the College premises, but I shall vacate them only when I have satisfied myself as to the true nature of affairs."

VICTORIA DOCK TRAGEDY.

FURTHER EVIDENCE.

The Coroner, Mr. King, on Friday, resumed the enquiry regarding the deaths of Mahadeo Jaluji and three other dock labourers, who were crushed under the load of iron pipes which was being lowered from the No. 1 hatch of the s. s. Scindia on to the wharf, on the 15th instant at the Victoria Dock, under the circumstances already reported.

Mr. Blunt Solicitor, appeared for the officers and owners of the Scindia, while Mr. Silm, pleader, was for the widow of the deceased.

Miraksha Rukmutshah, tindal of a stevedore, said the pipes were on frames and one frame was being landed at a time except when two frames were bolted together. Witness had told the foreman, De Souza, to separate the frames and the latter spoke to the Chief Officer in English which witness did not understand, and then told witness to leave. About five or six double frames were landed on the wharf before the sling broke.

Mr. D. C. Hill of Messrs. Hill Son and Knox said his firm had the contract for unloading the steamer in question. There were two supervisors. Mr. De Souza was one of them at the fore end. He had to supervise generally the unloading from Nos. 1 and 2 hatches. The foreman of the gang below was primarily responsible for the proper weight being in the slings. If the foreman in the hold did not understand English, the one above would be responsible. In the Alexandra Dock, the weight lifted by the crane was 35 cwts. and in the Prince's and Victoria Docks 30 cwts. This caused a confusion. Ropes were used usually for economising pipes which were liable to be broken by chains. When sling were not used the rope produced was what was usually used and was supplied by the ship. It was safe to remove the two frames by the rope sling. The breaking of the sling was in his opinion due to a flaw in the rope. The witness was informed that the rope had been tested since the occurrence in question, not since.

To the Coroner he said that his firm was responsible for the ropes taken from the ship for slings. Witness knew that it was against Port Trust's rule to put more than 30 cwts. on a load. Apparently a mistake was made by the foreman in allowing more than the proper weight for the crane. The load was not overweight for the sling. The same sling would have been used at the Alexandra Dock for a 35 cwt. load.

To Mr. Blunt he said the rope was 8½ inches Manilla rope. It was provided by the Port Trust bye-laws that the Master of the stevedore undertaking the loading or unloading of a steamer was responsible for all accidents.

After some more evidence was recorded the further enquiry was postponed.

ALL-INDIA STUDENTS' CONFERENCE

SUPPORT OF BOMBAY STUDENTS.

There was a meeting of the College students of Bombay, yesterday, at the Marwari Vidyalaya Hall regarding the All-India College Students' Conference to be held in Xmas week at Nagpur. Mr. L. G. Khare was voted to the chair.

The chairman said that he would much rather address the assembly in his mother-tongue because they had come to think that the more they used the English language the moredenationalised they became, but for some time to come they will have to put up with English.

FINANCES OF CONFERENCE.

Continuing, he said that he was concerned more about the finances of the Conference and he thought no movement could succeed until it had a long purse behind it. Mr. R. G. Gokhale, the president of the Working Committee had come to Bombay for the purpose and the speaker appealed to the audience not to send him back with empty hands. Bombay was a place where the money should come pouring for every good cause. The creation of a sense of unity among students all over India is greatly to be desired and it ought to make a direct appeal to the younger generation. The movement had been run by the students for their interest. Mr. Gokhale had a right to conduct the movement in Nagpur and he hoped they would also support him in Bombay.

Mr. Gokhale said they should assert their rights as students and citizens and appealed to them to help the Conference which had on its agenda the Bible question and the Non-Cooperation movement.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

The meeting then adopted the following resolutions:—

(1) This Meeting of the College Students of Bombay most heartily approves the proposal for an "All-India College Students' Conference" to be held in the Xmas holidays at Nagpur and congratulates the students of Nagpur Colleges for having inaugurated this movement at a time when its need was imperatively felt.

(2) This meeting further assures most hearty support to the Conference and elects the following Coommittee in Bombay, with powers to add to its number elected representatives from various colleges to collect funds and to do such other business as it may deem necessary to make the conference a complete success.

Personnel of the Committee:—Messrs. S. A Dange R. V. Nadkarni V. D. Sathaye. V. S. Deshmukh. K. N. Pathak. A. G. Mhatre, A. S. Gunmaker, G. M. Rane, M. B. Mankar.

(3) This meeting tenders its hearty thanks to Mr. R. J. Gokhale, the President of the "Working Committee" of the said Conference, for having come here to enlist the symphy of the Bombay Students in general.

(4) This meeting further resolves that a copy of the above resolutions be sent to the Press and the "Working Committee" at Nagpur.

(5) This meeting appoints an advisory committee consisting of 15 members with Mr. N. N. Lalu. as President to help the conference in its work.

A vote of thanks to the chair terminated the proceedings.

"N.-C.-O." IN GUJARAT.

VIGOROUS PROPAGANDA.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

The propaganda of the Non-Cooperation in Gujarat has penetrated the remotest villages where people gather in large numbers to hear the message of freedom. The enthusiasm of freedom. The enthusiasm of the masses exceeds all bounds and the voters have refused to give their votes to any candidate for the new Reformed Councils. It is hard to find a candidate trying to canvass votes in the Districts and if he is found somewhere in a remote corner, he crosses the Non-Cooperationists who cross swords with him and make all his chances of securing votes, if any, dwindle to zero. Both the sides are heard patiently and the voters, at the end of the meeting, declare their decision in favour of Non-Cooperation refusing to exercise their right of voting. The boycott of Councils has been eminently successful in Gujarat for, according to the reports received, very few people in the Districts have exercised their rights of voting while about half the number of voters have pledged themselves not to vote. 168 meetings were held during the last fortnight in the whole of Gujarat, out of which 84 were held in the Ahmedabad District. The work of taking signatures has progressed satisfactorily, looking to the large number of Government servants who could not sign the declaration. Out of a total of 19,000 Non-Mahomedan voters about 8,000 signatures have been already received in the Ahmedabad district, though the work of taking signatures in the Cities is greatly hampered by the incomplete and insufficient addresses of the voters. The other districts also report favourably and the voters have made sufficiently clear that the candidates who profess to stand for them do not represent them.

BOYCOTT OF SCHOOLS.

As regards the boycott of Government schools and Courts the work will be taken in hand immediately and a network of National Schools and Arbitration Courts will be established throughout the province freeing the people from Government control and Government interference.

The adjourned public meeting of the members of the Bombay Cotton Trade was held yesterday afternoon on the grounds of the Bombay Cotton Exchange at Colaba to consider over the report of the deputation sent by the Trade to meet the Cotton Contracts Board. Mr. Mathuradas Vissanji presided.

The following two resolutions were passed at the meeting:—

That the Board be requested that, in order to assure unity between the Board and the Trade, a public meeting composed of representatives of all the bodies be convened and then a Committee be formed to prepare a new scheme and submit it to Government and if it were rejected by Government, the members of the new Board should resign. If the above arrangement were accepted by the Board the new crop business for 1920-1921 should be continued with the necessary modifications suggested by the Chairman of the meeting.

(2) That the above resolution be forwarded by the Chairman to the Cotton Contracts Board and special letters embodying the resolution be forwarded to the various bodies of the Trade, and a reply to the same from the Board be also forwarded to the various bodies and if the Chairman thinks it advisable to open the new business he may do so after receiving the answer in the affirmative to the above.

A DARING DACOITY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 19.

A daring dacoity has been committed in the house of Damodar Saha, of village Garpara, in Manickganj Sub-division, within three miles of the Headquarters. The dacoits, numbering about 14, were fully armed with guns and revolvers. At about midnight they stationed themselves at various points of the house and fired their guns to frighten the people. They then set fire to hay-stacks outside in order that the house might be lighted up. A large crowd of men including some Lathials gathered near the house but the firing of guns by the dacoits rendered all possible help on the part of the crowd futile. The inmates however, managed to escape and the dacoits after ransacking the house broke open the iron safes, and carried off large booty amounting to several thousands.

FIRE AT NAIGAUM CROSS ROAD.

ALLEGED INCENDIARISM.

On Thursday a fire broke out on Naigaum Cross Road in a hut situated on a plot of land belonging to the City Improvement Trust and soon spread to an adjoining dye-works belonging to one Jusaf Juma. The hut was occupied by Jusaf's servant and six others. It is stated that the plot in question was taken by Messrs. Greaves Cotton and Co. on a contract for levelling out from the Trust and that one Gangasing wanted the occupants of the hut to vacate and that as they did not do so, he threatened to burn the hut, and Gangasing was even seen setting fire by some people. The damage done to the hut and the dye-works which are completely destroyed, is estimated at Rs. 51,235. The loss is not covered by insurance.

Gangasing has been arrested by the police and was charged on Friday before the Fifth Presidency Magistrate with incendiarism. The accused has been remanded to custody.

NOTES ON LUCKNOW RACES.

FIRST MEETING.

(From our Correspondent.)

LUCKNOW, Nov. 17.

Lucknow attracted quite a large gathering yesterday for its opening day, and good sport was promised by the programme. His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor Sir Butler Harcourt was present. An excellent start was made with the Produce Stakes for which five faced the barrier.

Betting was brisk, no less than three horses were strongly supported, the winner being Toddy (3—1) who won a good race by a neck from Black Stone (2—1) the favourite was Bally-Apple who ran third. For the Newcomers Plate, six races faced the machine for which Khailan who was backed for a lot of money was beaten easily by his stable mate Shahin (6—1). Municipal being placed second.

The Stand Plate proved good thing for Careless Girl, and she was strongly supported by the right people, Country Maid was finishing very strongly and should pick up a race shortly over a longer distance. Kishoree ran well and finished third. We now come to the Amtree Chase, though only four started of which Black Jester ran out at the second jump, nevertheless the race was full of interest, Lesto lying a length behind Red Lucefer and The Baron who raced neck and neck nearly the whole way.

The three horses jumped the last fence together, when Capt Bernard with his usual dash, came away and won comfortably after riding a very cool, patient race. The next race was the Mosul Plate Division II. Eleven ponies saddled up for this event for which great speculation took place. Varlet started actual favourite, though good many came for Najdi and National. The favourite did not gallop kindly and I think this pony requires a distance and does not like the bustle of a short race, Backens would do well to follow him in a long race. Justice the actual winner won easily and only a few of the clever people were smiling after the race, Najdi finished second and Dishemper third.

The Trial Plate was the biggest freed of the day no less than eleven horses toed the line for which White Poppy started favourite and was unlucky to get beaten by Finchcocks on the post, the third horse to finish being old Diana ½ length away. We next come to the last race of the day.

The Mosul Plate Division I.

Khailan saddled up again for this race, to the cost of the public who were on Tim to a man.

It was very dark, so the start was unnoticed from the stand, but judging by the way Khairan finished, he must have certainly got off badly.

The result was a win for Dickson, who was also strongly fancied and supported by his connections and won very easily from Chester who in turn beat Monocle.

TOLLY GUNGE AUTUMN MEETING.

FOURTH DAY'S RACES.

FAVOURITES FARE BADLY.

(Associated Press.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 20.

Once again backers fared badly at Tollygunge, when out of six races only in two did favourites come home. These were the Tollygunge Grand Annual and the second division of the All-Comers' Plate. Review, who won the first of these two races started at a prohibitive price, while Leading Girl's starting price in the other was about fives to twos. In the others favourites failed miserably, but punters received the worst shock when Victoria failed by a shortest of heads to account for the Governor's Cup. Baveica also proved a sore disappointement and he would not line up for long time, then threw down his rider Mr. Evers and thus lost all chances. The match also went to the favourite, but there was hardly any difference in the starting prices of the two contests Details:—

(Reuter's Telegram.)

SYDNEY, Nov. 19.
Recd. 2-30 p.m., Nov. 20.

The fourth match of the M. C. C. tour began here to-day against New South Wales. Waddington, Hitch, Parkin and Wilson stood down from the English side and Strudwick came in for Dolphin. Sixteen thousand spectators watched the interesting day's play and when the stumps were drawn for the day neither side could claim much advantage, New South Wales being 186 runs behind on the first innings with seven wickets in hand.

Douglas won the toss and Hobbs and Russell opened the English innings on a perfect wicket. Russell did not stay long, pulling a ball from Gregory into his wicket before he had reached double figures. and with the exception of Hobbs, who had the satisfaction of making his second successive century, and Hendren, who was unfortunate in being run out when he appeared well set, the visitors batted with little confidence, the total being their lowest hitherto. Gregory took four wickets for 52. Mailey four for 69 and Kelleway one for 55.

New South Wales lost three valuable wickets cheaply a the close of the day, but then Kelleway and Bardsley played out time. The weather was fine but uncertain.

SYDNEY, Nov. 20.
Recd. 8-30 p.m., Nov. 21.

There were 34,000 spectators present today, when New South Wales continued their innings in fine weather in the match with the M. C. C. Although it appeared to be a perfect batsman's wicket, the home side found the M. C. C. attack very hard to score off and the remaining seven wickets added only 103 runs to the overnight total. Fender was the most successful bowler for the M. C. C., taking four wickets for 26. Douglas had three for 41, Howell two for 58 and Hearne one for 35.

The M. C. C. batting in the second innings was again uneven and when the seventh wicket fell, they were only 244 runs ahead; but the valuable partnership between Rhodes and Fender, which had not been dissolved when the stumps were drawn put the visitors into a much more favourable position. Russell again played the ball into his wicket, when the total was seven and Hobbs was caught at 14, but Hearne with the assistance from Hendren and Woolley stayed while 154 runs were added At the close of the play the M. C. C. with three wickets to fall in the second innings were 303 runs on.

HINDU GYM. V. ISLAM GYM.

BRILLIANT INNINGS BY PAI.

The two-day fixture between the Hindu Gymkhana and the Islam Gymkhana, played on the former's ground, resulted in a draw yesterday. Overnight the visitors had made 157, in reply to which the home side, batting yesterday, hit up a total of 215. The Islam Gymkhana, then going in to bat second time, had scored 131 for 4 wickets, when time was called, the game thus resulting in a draw.

The outstanding feature of the two-days' batting was the brilliant century knocked up by M. D. Pai, who meeting all the bowling with fine confidence, hit no less than fourteen 4's and one 6 in the course of his innings. It was a very bright display of batting and he was loudly cheered on his return to the pavilion. D. B. Deodher, the famous Poona batsman, also played fine cricket, which, though not quite so attractive as his colleague's, was marked by sound defence, and he assisted him in making a splendid stand for the fifth wicket which realised no less than 131 runs. Apart from these two, the rest of the Hindu batsmen fared badly at the hands of the visitors' bowlers, the only other two men to make a double-figure score being P. Shivram and S. M. Dalvi.

In their second venture, the Islam Gymkhana did better than in their first, hitting up 131 for 4 wickets. For this they were mainly indebted to Mirza Yusuf Beg and Ferozekhan. The Mahomedan skipper played splendid cricket, cutting and driving in his best style and making a number of pretty strokes which included nine 4's. The Kashmir batsman played a characteristically merry innings, hitting hard and often sending the ball six times to the boundary and once lifting it over it. A feature of the visitors' bowling in the Hindu innings, was the fine performance by K. Tamboowala, who, maintaining a perfect-length and displaying fine judgment in varying his pace was responsible for the downfall of six of the opposing batsmen at a cost of only 13 runs each. Abdus Salaam took three wickets at a cost of 25 each.

PARSI COLTS' MATCH.

VAJIFDAR IN FINE FORM.

The two-day fixture between the teams captained respectively by Dr. H. D. Kanga and S. M. Chothia also resulted in a draw yesterday. On the first day, Chothia's side had put up a total of 167, to which Dr. Ganga's team responded with a total of 212 yesterday. Chothia's team in their second effort had lost 6 wickets in making 51 runs when stumps were drawn.

On Dr. Kanga's side H. J. Vajifdar played a fine innings of 64. Though not quite so brilliant as before, he played sound cricket. The next highest individual score on the side was contributed by Kanga who hit five 4's in the course of his fine innings of 46. S. Gandhi and M. Reporter also played well for their respective scores of 38 and 25, the former hitting four 4's.

Chothia's team in their second innings showed poor batting, losing six men for a total of only 51. In this innings M. B. Vatcha, B. Bhapoo and J. Elavia bowled with good effect. On Chothia's side, D. Katrak took 6 wickets for 54 and H. Karanjia 5 for 32.

2. While thus the proceedings in the said application No. 80 of 1920 are pending in this Court and the subject-matter thereof is subjudice, without first obtaining the leave of the Court, the opponent published in his paper, the "Bombay Chronicle" of the 16th instant, a communication from a "voter" reproducing some of the allegations made in application No. 80 of 1920, and distinctly referring to the evidence which is to come before the Court at the trial. The applicant further submits that the said communication also contains veiled comments against the applicant by alleging that "for the last few months there was a constitutional agitation against the Municipal Board and especially against the President—Mr Rajaram Tukaram."

3. The applicant submits that the conduct of the opponent in publishing the said communication without first obtaining the leave of the Court not only lowers the applicant in public estimation, but prejudices public justice and interferes with a fair trial to which the applicant is entitled in the said application No. 80 of 1920 and constitutes the offence of contempt of Court apart from the harm it does to the reputation of the applicant both as a private gentleman and as the President of the Bandra Municipality.

4. The applicant, therefore, respectfully prays that your Honour be pleased to deal with the opponent according to law for the said offence of contempt of Court, and that pending disposal of the said application, an injunction be issued to him not to publish any further communication and comments on the subject.

5. The applicant also prays that he may be allowed to publish the text of this application in the next issue of the "Bombay Chronicle", or any other paper or papers to counteract the mischief already done by the said communication.

CALCUTTA JUTE MARKET.

(Associated Press.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 20.

Regarding the short time arrangement in the jute mills, "New Empire" says that the decision will not be completely binding in all the mills, until Mr. A. C. E. Howe son, Director, Hiwrah and Reliance Mills, arrives in Calcutta on Wednesday. It also reports that the announcement had an immediate effect on the market and the price of Hessians immediately jumped up by Rs. 2 from Rs. 14-8 to Rs. 16-8 for spot purchases and speculators turned buyers. Business was done last night on an extensive scale and two crores of yards were bought representing about 35 lakhs of rupees. This was was the position last night, but this morning bulls came out sellers and price dropped about 12 annas. It is expected there will be a further downward movement in view of the fact that there are heavy stocks and that American demand is getting poorer every day.

A BENEFIT PERFORMANCE.

On Wednesday next (November 24), a Benefit Performance (Matinee) is to be given to Mr. Phirozsha Merwanji Mistry, in appreciation of his long and successful connection with the Indian stage extending over 22 years. The ranks of capable Indian actors in Bombay who have been the "favourites" of Indian theatregoers by their attractive acting and singing for about a quarter of a century are fast thinning away. Mr. Mistry, however, to the delight of his innumerable 'devotees" has preserved his powers without any sign of abatement and still continues to take active part in Indian dramas. Lately he severed his connection with the Parsi Natak Mandli after putting in there a period of 17 years, and the Young Zoroastrian Dramatic Co., with whom he is now connected, will give him a benefit performance in appreciation of his long service in the cause of Indian drama. "Juddin Zagdee", the popular comic play, will be staged that evening at the Victoria Theatre, under the patronage of Mr. H. C. Adenwala, and as it is a favourite play among the Parsis, depicting as it does the life some Zoroastrians lead when severed from their hearth and home in India, a bumper house it is sure to attract.

Mr. Mistry, it may be added, has "done his bit" during the dark days of the war when Bombay hospitals were full of Indian wounded soldiers returned from the front. For six months, as a labour of love, he, on the suggestion of Dr. Contractor, used to go for one hour every week to hospitals for Indian soldiers at Marine Lines, and amuse the brave soldiers who used to delight in hearing Hindustani songs. He also with a view to popularising the War Loan sang songs in public picture palaces, specially composed by the Parsi poet "Jerames."

THE REAL DANGER.

Recent references in the House of Commons to the "dangerous situation" in India are disquieting, for such references in the past have far too often been the prelude to repressive action against Indian nationalism. We suspect that Mr. Montagu uses the word dangerous in quite another sense from that in which it is used by the mouthpieces of Anglo-Indian opinion. Not so long ago, upon a memorable occasion, he warned the House that in certain circumstances—i.e., if the Anglo-Indians did not change their attitude—the situation in India would become dangerous. He even went so far as to say that the people both of England and India would rise up in wrath together to end a state of things unfit for an enlightened age. The House, on that occasion, howled him down; but now the circumstances he predicted have arisen and he would be more or less than human if he did not say: I told you so. Now, is the present situation really dangerous; and, if so, wherein lies its danger, and to whom is it a menace? We ourselves should have described the present situation as more hopeful than any that the force of circumstances has produced in India, since India, under British influence, first began to wake to consciousness of nationhood. If there is one thing for which future history will praise the British Empire, it is this: that it did arouse a spirit of manly independence in the subject peoples. Unfortunately the historian will have also to record that it also produced a class of officials so obtuse that they could take no pride in this great service to humanity but, when the subject peoples came to man's estate and claimed free status in the Empire, tried to crush them; as if the preservation of the rule of those officials and of their prestige had been more important than that development of the subject peoples which alone could justify the Empire in the view of history. In India, in the last few years, the said development has been progressing very rapidly, and if untoward circumstances have given it an anti-British tendency, that is no reason for repressing it, but rather for taking measures to remove the reasons for that tendency. There are more Indians to-day who are actively concerned with Indian progress towards self-government than ever before; and there are more Englishmen to-day who are in favour of Indian progress towards self-government than ever before. Indeed it is no longer a question of whether India shall, or shall not, be allowed self-government; the right of India to autonomy is now admitted; it is merely a question of how long India shall be kept in leading-strings. Therefore we are justified in saying that the situation is more hopeful than ever before.

Where then lies the danger in the situation? We are certain to be told, indeed we have been told repeatedly, that it is in the Non-cooperation movement. But the Non-cooperation movement merely aims at the redress of certain wrongs—the same essentially as those of which Mr. Montagu said that the British and the Indian nations would one day rise together to put an end to them, if they continued—and also at obtaining that complete self-government for India, which is now in principle admitted by the British Government as India's birthright. The Non-cooperation movement could be ended by a generous action of the British Government. The Turkish Treaty ought, in British interests no less than Indian, to be speedily revised, the grave mistake made last year in the Punjab might be admitted and self-government for India might be made an actual fact instead of a remote contingency. If that were done, there would be no more reason for a Non-cooperation movement. But even supposing, as officialdom, no doubt, supposes, this to be impossible, is non-violent non-cooperation really a danger? We, for our part, regard an organised agitation of this nature as the one alternative to violence considering the present state of Indian feeling. The violence might be sporadic and local; it might be easily suppressed; but it would none the less be worse for India and for England than a movement which abjures the thought of violence and possesses also a constructive programme. When once the right of India to Self-Government has been admitted, we cannot see why the Government of India or of England should object to people working for that principle in different ways. If there is to be only one way, and that way the way of the British Government; if everyone who takes or seeks another way is to be regarded as a "dangerous" individual and punished; then Indians would be justified in thinking that the perpetuation of English influence and control, rather than the liberation of India, is the aim in view. If to train the Indian nation for Self-Government in as short a time as possible is, as we are told it is, the present goal of British policy, why do British statesmen object to Indians trying to manage their own affairs in their own way, apart from Government, when the movement for this purpose is quite peaceful? It is true that it is characterised by anti-British demonstrations, but that is owing to the grievances which are the movement's raison d'etre; and they are burning grievances. The people who possess them must have an outlet, and it is manifestly better from the point of view of Government that that outlet should be in public speaking and constructive work for the country, even though expressed in anti-British terms, than in mere destructive violence. We see no danger there.

The danger which we do perceive (and it is imminent) is in the panic, based on misunderstanding, of a number of the British here in India, who urge the Government to adopt stern repressive measures and who, alas! obtain a hearing much more readily than it is possible for Indians to do; and in the panic, as ill-grounded, of some close adherents of the Government who, being of Indian birth, are alarmed to find themselves cut off from their own nation, and so think their lives in danger—foolishly, as we believe. Their denunciations of such men as Mr. Gandhi and Messrs. Shaukat and Mohamed Ali seem the utterances of insanity to those who have a personal acquaintance with the men in question. But they find acceptance with the great majority of Anglo-Indians and contribute to that bitterness combined with fallacy of judgment, which, in our opinion, is the only danger in the present situation. It saddens us to note that, after so many years of British intercourse with Orientals, few Englishmen have that affection for the peoples of the East which is certain to proceed from understanding of them. The average Englishman is fed on stories of the atrocities, the roguery, and general shiftiness of Orientals. He hears nothing of their idealism, their sincerity their power of self-devotion and self-sacrifice for any cause which they consider worthy, nor yet of the passionate loyalty which is their gratitude for kindness which a European nation would not notice. Europe buys and sells, while Asia freely gives her loyalty. It is a tragedy that England should, through lack of understanding, have estranged the heart of Asia, which was once devoted to her. The partisans of Czardom have a lot to answer for. It is this total misunderstanding of the Eastern attitude and character which constitutes a standing danger in the present situation. The same misunderstanding is responsible for errors in the past, of which the enemies of England have not been slow to take advantage. At the present time, when anti-British propaganda is becoming rife in many foreign countries, it would be a great disaster if the same misunderstanding were again to triumph in severe repressive measures against a movement which we regard as a necessary safety-valve for Indian feeling—a constructive movement capable of doing good to India. In a quarter of a century's experience of Eastern lands, in the course of which we have been in a position to investigate the causes of some serious "troubles" between Asiatics and Europeans, we have formed the opinion that serious trouble of that nature is caused more often by the panic of the European than the grievance of the Oriental element. But few Europeans have sufficient knowledge to perceive that it is so; nor do they care to learn. And therein lies the danger.

FOR HINDU-MUSLIM UNITY

We have received so many letters (none of them, of course, from Muslims) warning us to stop writing about Turkey and Islam and write on subjects "which interest Indians," that we feel it necessary to reply to them editorially. If we listened only to such warnings, we should soon despair, not only of all chance of Hindu-Muslim unity, but also of the political sagacity and foresight of the Indian nation as a whole. The Turkish question is in fact the base of Hindu Muslim unity, in so far as the masses of the people are concerned, or so it seems to us. It is the wise and heartfelt sympathy of the great Hindu leaders with the Muslims in their hour of trial which alone has won the heart of the great mass of Muslims. The advantage of such union to the cause of India as a nation is self-evident. But there seems to be a tendency among a certain—we hope, a small and unimportant,—section of the Hindu public to regard the action of their leaders in espousing the Muslim cause, and incorporating the Khilafat grievance in their programme as nothing more than a political move. They do not wish to be bothered with the knowledge of that grievance; they do not wish even to hear the facts in detail: it is no concern of theirs. As a matter of fact the Turkish question is not the concern of Muslims only at this moment. It is a pan-Asiatic question. The cry of Europe against the Turks, since Gladstone's time, has been "Turn them out of Europe, bag and baggage, because they are Asiatics." Not content with that, the Europeans have pursued them into Asia and attacked them there. And India—all India—is concerned especially, because the Government of the British Empire made certain promises to Indian subjects of that Empire which have been belied. If India is to stand before the world as a united nation, the Hindu population cannot be indifferent to the grievance of the Muslims, which is theirs as well; for the attitude of the British Government towards the Muslmans of India has shown plainly that Indians have no voice whatever in the Empire's foreign policy, even where that policy concerns them far more intimately than it concerns the people of England. Yet Indians are still expected to regard their citizenship of the British Empire as a privilege worth dying for, and Indians will be asked to die for it as heretofore. This surely is a matter which concerns, and ought to interest, all India whether Hindu, Muslim, Christian, Sikh, or Buddhist. We go further, and we say that the undeserved sufferings of the Turkish nation form a human tragedy of such magnitude that it must appeal to every sentient human being, more particularly to those who like the Turks are made to suffer simply because they happen to be Asiatics and non-Christians. In the interests of Hindu-Muslim unity we shall not cease to write upon the Turkish question.

Notes of the Day.

The Postal Strike.

The ultimatum issued by the Postal authorities to their men who are on strike to return to work before to-day on pain of final dismissal is not likely to relieve the situation. The announcement by the same authorities of their views concerning a revision of the scale of pay for postal workers seemed to afford a basis of discussion; the discrepancy with the views of Mr. Baptista, as expressed in these columns, being not so great as to preclude a settlement if the authorities had but consented to a little parley. The ultimatum, in the circumstances, can only mean, that the authorities refuse to recognise the postal union as a responsible body with which parley can be held. But that is to put the clock back fifty years, viewing the question from the British standpoint. In England everyone to-day agrees that to have unions instead of individuals to deal with is an advantage to the employers, because it simplifies the discussion and the settlement of all disputes. While the men were unorganised and inarticulate such disputes were marked by grave disorders, such as the burning down of mills and the destruction of machinery—disorders which have now entirely disappeared. We should say that the whole history of the Labour movement goes to show that the workers prefer order to disorder, and only take to the latter in despair; and we see no reason to suppose that Indian workers are exceptional. Nay, we declare from our own observations during the present strikes, that they have already shown their preference for order in obedience to their unions. It is therefor to the interest of the community that their unions should be recognised and not discredited. The conduct of the postal authorities strikes us as short-sighted and—which is the same thing—reactionary.

The Associated Press.

The partiality of the Associated Press for official and semi-official news has been more than once exposed in these columns. We have experienced to our bitter disappointment the lethargic attitude of the Associated Press towards news of National importance. But the latest instance we are going to quote seems an actual departure from its course as a provider of news to that of propagandist for a certain clique. It is a matter of common knowledge now, how the Aligarh University news has been twisted by certain parties to convey their own ideas. There is a daily tussle between the Secretary of M. A O. University and Mr. Mahomed Ali, contradicting and counter-contradicting messages being sent by either party to the eager public. At such a time, particularly, a news agency has got to be, like Caesar's wife, above suspicion. But, what do we find?

A Prophetic Message.

"Aligarh, Nov. 15.—It is believed in well-informed circles that when the College reopens on the 1st December Mr. Mahomed Ali's next move would be to send Ulemas to the College Mosque on Friday to deliver inflammatory speeches before the students. His plan is to compel the College authorities to stop such visitors and to give a religious complexion to the whole affair. The public cannot be unaware of the fact that he has been using the College Mosque for other than religious purposes and once Non-Muslims were freely let into witness the inauguration of his University. Now he has taken the fancy of using the sacred House of God for the advancement of his political propaganda of Non-Cooperation and of interference with the discipline of the Boarding House. He is sending out most exaggerated accounts of his so-called University which consists of only 2 small bungalows and some tents, to the parents of the students who are made to believe that Mr. Andrews and others are coming out as Members of the staff. But let not these stories dim the fact that future stories of this fool's paradise are being extolled to wreck the Aligarh College to serve political ends." It may be noted that the above message was sent only to moderate papers. It is full of fallacious and controversial points and its last sentence particularly seems to claim prophetic gifts for someone on the A. P. staff. We would ask the higher authorities of the Agency to issue orders forthwith asking the staff to limit their activities to the proper province of a news agency.

A Great Adventurer.

Queen Olga is appointed regent of the Hellenic Kingdom, pending the return of King Constantine, which the Greeks regard as a foregone conclusion. M. Venizelos and his chief adherents have fled the country—or, in more diplomatic phraseology, left Athens for Nice—dealing a Parthian shaft at the loyalists in the shape of an address to the Greek nation. Really, as a tale of mere adventure, the life-story of M. Venizelos ought to be written. It is not so many years ago that, as a chief of brigands, he made the mule-paths of his native island of Crete unsafe for travellers, particularly for the wretched Muslims of that isle, once a flourishing section of the population, now almost extinct. He thus acquired the experience of dividing spoils among a clamorous and greedy band which was so useful to the representatives of the Allies, who all lacked that experience, at the Peace Conference in Paris. A perfect master of intrigue, and quite unscrupulous (according to the verdict of his fellow-Greeks) he was endowed with a wonderfully persuasive manner, and considerable personal charm. The way in which he obtained the varying figures for the Greek population of Asia Minor with which he furnished to the Powers is instructive. There was once a Turkish vilayet called Archipelago which included all the Islands of the Aegean Sea and a little portion of the coast of Asia Minor. The Islands, save a very few of them, were lost to Turkey long before the war; the present vilayet called Archipelago is practically restricted to the portion of the coast of Asia Minor before mentioned, where the Muslim population was in strong majority. M. Venizelos brought the population of the whole original vilayet of Archipelago to bear upon that little portion of the coast of Asia Minor, and thus proved conclusively that Greeks were there in great majority. When that method was exposed, he admitted that the Muslims were in fact in a majority, but alleged that a majority of the Muslims had been Greeks some centuries ago, and therefore were of Greek nationality. And that argument was apparently accepted by Mr. Lloyd George, since the Greek claim to Smyrna was supported by him.

The Indian Humanitarian.

We have received a copy of "The Indian Humanitarian" for the months of September and October with the Editor's compliments. The motto of this interesing and most useful paper "Love and Kindness to All" is fully borne out by the contents of the present issue; but it is no mere passive or arm chair benevolence, we are glad to notice. The paper is engaged on real constructive work, and although we, not being restricted to a vegetarian diet, find ourselves condemned by its high standard as a "murderer", we can appreciate the highness of the standard which condemns us, though we might dispute its strict accordance with the law of nature and its universal application. But in the practical sphere we have nothing but praise for the work of "The Humanitarian" upon behalf of domestic animals, to mitigate their sufferings by instilling knowledge in the people of their true relation in regard to man. This is one of dependence, and the man who fails to treat his dependents mercifully is a bad citizen and a bad man. He is also a bad economist, and "The Humanitarian" is doing valuable work in showing how the ruthless slaughter and exportation of cattle is injuring the nation's wealth. In this connection, the article on "Dairy Farming and Milk Supply in India" by Prof. P. C Sarkar, and the Editorial articles and notes and comments will be found illuminating. The reports of the work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Bombay are also of general interest; as indeed is the whole periodical; for even the most controversial pages, those which plead the cause of anti-vaccination and of vegetarianism are expressed in such a manner as to claim respectful, even sympathetic hearing even from professed opponents of those theories. "The Indian Humanitarian" is a valuable contribution to the thought of India at this period; and deserves the consideration, not only of all the Indians, but also of all the Europeans who love animals.

REPRISALS IN IRELAND.

"BLACKEST ANNALS."

MR. ASQUITH'S MOST TRENCHANT ATTACK ON GOVT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 0-45 a.m., Nov. 21.

Mr. Asquith, in a speech at the National Liberal Club, delivered the most trenchant attack on Government, in connection with the reprisals in Ireland. He said that soldiers and the Constabulary in Ireland had been placed in a false position, because they were regarded not as the guardians of order but as the agents of repression. He declared that Ireland, during the past six months, had been in a state of civil war. Justice had been replaced by a policy of blind, pitiless, and indiscriminate revenge. The recent reports did not justify the assertion of the authorities that the things were better, and it was impossible to believe the official assurances.

"BLACKEST ANNALS."

Cold-blooded and deliberate murder had been traced to uniformed servants of the Crown, and he maintained that the things had been done in Ireland by the authority and incitement of the Executive equal to the blackest annals of the lowest despotism of the European world. He would not rest until he had explained to the people of Britain what dishonour was being done in their name. He urged as a motto, throughout the whole of the political activities, the words of John Bright:—Be just, fear not.

M.P. SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE IN COURT.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd 2-15 p.m., Nov. 21.

An amazing story was told at Bow Street to-day, when Mr. Malone M P. was brought up for trial under Regulation 42 of the Defence of the Realm Act, for having in a speech at the Albert Hall committed an act likely to cause sedition and disaffection among the civilian population. Mr. Travers Humphrey for the prosecution mentioned that when the accused's flat was raided two loaded revolvers with spare ammunition were found for which Mr. Malone had no licenses. They found also pamphlets entitled Guide for brothers of Red officers corps," warning them that there would soon be fighting throughout the world. One pamphlet said "we shall not lay down our arms until the world is ours. We can seduce the army by propaganda and half of it will no doubt come over to our side." Further extracts detailed what steps should be taken to organise street fighting. The counsel for the defence submitted that the Albert Hall speech was mere rhetoric and Mr. Malone meant nothing wrong. He referred to the accuseds fine war record. The Magistrate then sentenced Mr. Malone to six months in the second division and bound over the defendant in a sum of four thousand sterling or in default six months imprisonment on the second charge of being a dangerous person. Notice of appeal was given.

IRISH PEACE CONFERENCE.

PREMIER REFUSES TO RECEIVE DELEGATES AGAIN.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Nov. 20.

Asked in the House of Commons whether he had refused to receive a deputation from the Irish Peace Conference, which had been appointed in response to his invitation, the Prime Minister said he did not think that at the present time any advantage would be gained by receiving the deputation, as he was not at all sure that the Conference had discovered the moderate opinion in Ireland, in accordance with his request to the first deputation. The first step towards peace must be cessation of the attempt to overthrow the reign of law by murder and assassination and the breaking up of the murder gang.

STORY OF A REMARKABLE LETTER.

ALLEGED SCHEME FOR POISONING TROOPS IN IRELAND.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Nov. 20.

In the House of Commons, Sir Hamar Greenwood read out a remarkable letter which had been found amongst the papers belonging to the Chief of the Staff of Irish Republican Army. The letter dealt with the possibility of spreading typhoid among the troops by infected milk, in which connection expert opinion was necessary in order to see whether it could be done, also of spreading glanders among the horses which would best be done by tampering with their oats.

Mr. Devlin and Mr. Macveagh were very indignant and declared that the whole thing was a sheer invention and concocted in Dublin Castle, to which Sir Hamar Greenwood replied that the document was captured during a raid.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 8-45 a.m., Nov. 21.

The military guarding the aerodrome at Limerick were attacked to-day, but the attack was repulsed. One soldier was shot dead and one wounded.

MEETING OF EMPIRE PREMIERS.

ST. GEORGE DEFINES ITS FUNCTIONS.

"TO EVOLVE A COMMON POLICY."

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd 2-15 p.m., Nov. 21.

It is emphasised from official sources that the statements indicating that the meeting of premiers in 1921 will mark the beginning of a definite system of empire government in peace by an Imperial Peace Cabinet, go far beyond the terms of the announcement made by Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law in the House of Commons. The meeting will be on the lines of the Imperial War Cabinet meetings in 1917 and 1918.

The Premier stated at the time that he hoped that these meetings would become an accepted convention of the British constitution. The result of the meetings was not to establish a common executive for the Empire or in any way affect the executive authority of each Government in the Empire or its responsibility to its own parliament. They were held with the object of arriving at a common policy on matters of urgent importance to all by frank and intimate discussion. The forthcoming meeting of premiers will be of the same character.

BRITAIN'S EXPORT TRADE.

MAKING UP LOST GROUND.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 11-30 a.m., Nov. 21.

Great Britain is rapidly making up the ground lost during the war in the direction of supplying dominions markets with goods. Minister Kellaway, speaking in Bedfordshire, showed that whereas thirty-three per cent of the total British exports went to the Dominions in 1915, this had fallen to twenty-two and a half last year. There had been considerable improvement however to 30.6 point per cent during the first six months of 1920.

The United States and Japan had principally benefited by the lost trade. The former had only sold 9.5 per cent of the total imports into South Africa in 1913, but sold over twenty-four per cent last year. The respective figures for Australia from the United States were 13.7 and 28.7 India, 2.6 and 12.2, New Zealand, 9.5 and 24.7.

Britain, he said, ought not to rest satisfied until it had again secured the pre-war hold on the dominions markets. In order to achieve this hindrances to production must be disposed of; maunfacturers must get rid of the variation clause which absolved a firm from the promise of definite date of delivery. He was officially advised that this was hampering British trade throughout the world more than anything. The continued existence of the clause was principally due to the uncertainty of the labour position.

PUBLISHING SECRET STATE DOCUMENTS.

QUESTION IN COMMONS.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Nov. 20.

Mrs. Asquith's famous book of reminiscences was obviously meant in a question by General Moore to the Prime Minister asking whether his attention had been drawn to the fact that certain volumes just published contained copies of secret State documents and whether he proposed to take steps to prevent further disclosures in the future.

Mr. Lloyd George replied that he had not read the works referred to, but there was an obligation upon the ministers, admirals and generals not to disclose the confidential statements without previous consent of the Government.

An interjection by a member "What about their wives?" was not answered.

TOMB OF UNKNOWN WARRIOR.

The tomb of the Unknown Warrior was sealed with soil from France and Flanders. Over one million people made pilgrimage to the Abbey.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

SESSION AT GENEVA.

GENERAL SATISFACTION OF EMPIRE'S REPRESENTATIVES

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd. 1 p.m., Nov. 20.

Geneva.—The Dominion quarters are of opinion that on the whole the work of the Assembly is going well.

The Canadians consider that it is very encouraging, as they [illegible] it possible that the preliminary [illegible] would be disposed of so quickly. The very good spirit shown is of good augury for the future. Moreover, the system of organisation and procedure adopted seem very practical.

The Indians regard progress as satisfactory. The point of the greatest interest in the proceedings hitherto is that British India and the Dominions as individual members of the League of Nations do not act necessarily together but exercise complete freedom to act and vote in accordance with their own views. The individual character of each British State is specially emphasised.

South Americans consider that things will now move as the composition of the Committees has been settled and real work will begin. South Africa is naturally specially interested in the mandates and is keenly concerned for the welfare of the League and determined to do all in its power to see it has a fair trial to become a living organisation.

New Zealand's general impression is that considering all the difficulties the Assembly has done fairly well. The numbers and the language difficulties of the Assembly are being overcome reasonably well and the machinery has been started which ought to result in good work. It is hoped there will be no delay. Fear is expressed that the Committees are raher large and that this may hamper discussions. There is every reason for optimism.

PRESENT WARS AND THE LEAGUE.

The league has already shown by M. Nansen's report what can be done. With regard to the wars still going on the League is not yet in a position to assert full authority. It has economic pressure, arbitration, international courts of justice and publicity all which will make a great impression. One of the means that of the use of force by the League is set forth in the Covenant but does not appear on the Agenda. It is perhaps one of most difficult problems.

The Australians think that although full allowance must be made for the necessary process of shaking down common to all the assemblages and intensified by language difficulty in this case, disappointments will be felt at the Assemblys dealing with generalities and platitudes, rather than coming into actual contact with the problems awaiting solution. None of the really big questions has yet been approached, the references to them being entirely vague and general but now that different sections of the work have been allotted to the Committees it is hoped that maetters will improve.

GERMAN EFFORTS TO ENTER THE LEAGUE,

FRANCE LEADS THE OPPOSITION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 8-45 a.m., Nov. 21.

Geneva.—Considerable canvassing is going on behind the scenes as regards Germany's admission to the League of Nations. A two-thirds majority is necessary for new admissions and this is improbable, although an actual majority is believed to be certain. Behind the Scandinavian group who favour Germany are South Africa, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, most of the South American states and possibly Britain. It is believed that Japan and China will follow Britain's lead. The French group which is undoubtedly very strong in the League vigorously opposes Germany's admission and is supported by Belgium, Portugal, Poland, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and Czecho-Slovakia.

DISTRIBUTION OF MANDATES.

GERMANY'S PROTEST.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 9 p.m., Nov. 21.

Geneva.—Germany has officially protested to the Assembly of the League of Nations against the methods of distributing the mandates, declaring that under the Treaty of Versailles it is illegal for the Entente Powers to distribute the mandates amongst themselves. The protest expresses the opinion that the ultimate destiny of the German colonies is not a matter to be settled by those temporarily controlling them, but by the Assembly which not only controls but originated the mandates. The protest is signed by von Simons and it is regarded as significant that it is addressed to the Assembly and not to the Council.

"The Times" says:—

It is understood that India will be represented at the meeting of the Dominion Premiers in June and that the India Office doubtless in consultation with the Government of India is giving attention to the question of the constitution of Indian representation.

The Forestry Commission in consultation with the India Office and Colonial Office has appointed an Inter-Departmental Committee consisting of Lord Clinton, Mr. P. H. Clutterbuck, Major R. D. Furse, Sir Ronald Monro Ferguson (now Viscount Navar) and Professor J. B. Farmer to prepare a scheme to give effect to the resolutions of the Empire Forestry Conference with regard to the Central Institution for the training of forest officers.

SEIZURE OF BATUM.

FALSE RUMOUR.

EVACUATION OF WRANGEL'S ARMY.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Nov. 20.

With reference to Tcitcherin's wireless allegations Reuter learns that it is absolutely untrue that Britain in conjunction with Georgia intends to seize Batum. The British Government has neither employed nor contemplates using the British ships for the removal of General Wrangel and his stores from the Crimea. The army was evacuated by the Russian transports, General Wrangel himself leaving on a Russian cruiser. With the exception of six Russian children, which were removed from a hospital in Sebastopol, the British ships removed the Britishers only.

BRITISH TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

DRAFT ARGUMENT BEFORE CABINET.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 18.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Nov. 20.

Mr. Lloyd George stated in the House of Commons that the Cabinet had decided to approve the draft agreement for carrying out the arrangements with regard to trade with Russia. The draft would be ready for submission to the Soviet in a few days. An agreement would not be entered into until the Soviet had carried out its undertaking concerning prisoners.

SOVIET RECOGNITION OF PRE-WAR DEBTS ESSENTIAL.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 11-30 a.m., Nov. 21.

The Prime Minister's announcement regarding the impending resumption of trading with Russia has been received with mingled feelings. The conclusion of an agreement in this matter is looked upon as inevitably leading to political recognition, which the soviet ardently seeks and against which feeling is still very strong. Apart however from the general objection to entering into any relations with the Bolshevik regime, there is a disposition to suspend judgment regarding trading arrangements until the terms are published.

here is a widespread feeling that the sine qua non of any agreement is that Russians should recognise the liability for loans raised in Great Britain and France before the war amounting to half a billion sterling in the case of Britain and one billion sterling in the case of France for municipal, national and railway purposes. This is independent of the half a billion lent by Britain to Russia for war material, as regards which expectation of recovery is not sanguine. The impression rules that the new agreement should provide a system of credits to facilitate export of goods to Russia and to secure supplies. As to goods from Russia in spite of the alluring reports of accumulated stocks awaiting export, doubt is expressed if anything of a substantial character exists beyond large holdings of gold, all of which has been stolen while some has been adulterated.

"A MENACE TO STABILITY OF THE WORLD."

UNITED STATES' VIEWS OF BOLSHEVISTS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. 8-45 a.m., Nov. 21.

A Telegram from Washington says, it is stated there, that the United States will not follow Britain's lead if it recognises the Soviet Government, if only to the extent of trading. Officials explain that the United States Government believes that, Bolshevism is a menace to the stability of world and that Russians themselves are being held in subjection against their will by the Bolsheviks.

90,000 RUSSIAN REFUGEES IN CONSTANTINOPLE.

AN UNTENABLE POSITION.

LONDON, Nov. 19.

NO IGNOMINIOUS SURRENDER!

"PREPARED TO SUFFER PRIVATIONS."

BOMBAY POSTMEN'S RESOLVE.

MESSENGER SERVICE FROM TO-DAY.

TRAM SERVICE NORMAL.

The tramwaymen returned to work on Sunday morning and the usual tram-service and transfer tickets were restored after trying the patience of the public for a tediously long time.

It is understood that the men got practically all they had wanted with slight variations.

The Bombay Postmen's Union is going to start the messenger-service to-day and many of the postal strikers are to be engaged there, some are willing to go back to their own places and others are trying to secure engagements in private concerns. The Union has made arrangements to keep regular communication with each of its members so that whenever required they may be called to meet together.

During the last few days the Union has collected Rs. 900 from various donors, towards the Postmen's Relief Fund.

GAS DEADLOCK.

The new arrangement of the Bombay Gas Company to get the works of the strikers done by a number of mercineries seems to be on the verge of a collapse. The gas now supplied by the Company is quite powerless and lights on the public roads are awfully dim—many of them go out immediately after they are lighted. This goes only to show that the present arrangement is defective and must inevitably collapse, unless, of course, the accommodating body like the Municipal Corporation continues to connive at the shortcomings of the Company in such an amazingly tolerant way, in which case, the deadlock might drag on for a greater length of time.

RESOLVE OF POSTAL STRIKERS

PREPARED TO SUFFER PRIVATION.

The Postal and Telegraph men on strike assembled on Sunday evening at the Marwari Vidyalaya to consider the situation created by the Postmaster-General's notice regarding resumption of work before the 22nd instant. The notice was read and explained to the men. Thereafter without commenting upon it and without expressing his own views upon the subject, Mr. Baptista proceeded to ascertain the opinion and feeling of the men. With surprising unanimity the men were resolute for boycotting the Post Office. Mr. Baptista then addressed the meeting in Marathi. There was great enthusiasm and sentence after sentence was punctuated by thundering applause.

MR. BAPTISTA'S ADDRESS.

Comrades! Permit me to congratulate you upon your resolution not to resume work, but to suffer rather than surrender ignominiously. You will teach Government the lesson that not even the barbarous weapon of starvation will break your spirit. You will teach Government the lesson to prize, honour and self-respect more than loaves and fishes. People who come from England to India in Government service cannot of course be expected to feel for you as your own countrymen do. But when the postal clerks who are your own countrymen betray you for a few pieces of silver how can you expect Englishmen to really feel for you. And yet without this kind of feeling they must generally fail to do the right thing when a crisis like this strike arises. But we put faith in the ostensible kind-heartedness of Messrs. Hutchinson and Vaughan, but the Postal Committee's Report has exposed them. They recommended for Bombay 80 per cent. on the pre-war pay and two rupees less than Ahmedabad was actually getting! You will naturally say "Save us from our friends." I am satisfied from the attitude of Government that it is unworthy of your service. Do you think that if we had Swaraj, that Government would sit silent like the sphinx, and seek to starve you into submission? Do you think if we had Swaraj that Government would turn a dear ear to the complaints of merchants? Is there any Post Office in the world for a city like Bombay, where the service would have been so bad for two months? Anywhere in Europe or America this would not have been tolerated for one week. But our people endure with patience much, and in this they indirectly help Government in its unrelenting attitude. Well as we have no Swaraj our remedy is Non-Cooperation. Boycott the Post Office. We must begin a vigorous propaganda in Bombay that the Bombay Post Office should be boycotted by all men, so that nobody should take service in the Post Office. Government may bring men from other provinces; but the leaders in other provinces should do their best to prevent it. Your duty under the present circumstances is plain. You cannot enter this abode of Satan till it is purified by Holy water. Your duty is to give an example to the whole world to suffer for a just cause. More than that you will show the world how Indians can practise Non-Cooperation with non-violence. May God bless you!

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were passed:—

That this meeting of the Postal, Packers and Telegraph Unions, after giving full consideration to the notice issued by the Postmaster-General resolve that they will suffer privations and hardships rather than resume work after the cruel ill-treatment meted out to them by the Postal authorities in declining even to reconsider the decision of Government regarding the time-scale of pay in accepting the suggestion to refer disputes to arbitration made by Mr. Baptista, as President of the Unions.

This meeting authorises the Secretary to send copies of this resolution to H. E. the Viceroy, H. E. the Governor, the Director-General and Postmaster-General.

This meeting respectfully appeals to our countrymen to assist us in our trouble and tribulation by finance or employment and all legitimate ways.

PUNJAB LABOUR SUPPORT.

Mr. Baptista has received the following wire:—

This meeting of the Labour Unions of the Punjab begs to assure the strikers of Bombay of their hearty sympathy in their fight with their employers for a living wage and for decent treatment and expresses the hope that they will hold out until they secure victory for their just cause. This meeting also begs to assure the Bombay strikers that monetary help will soon be sent to them and all other steps taken to give them the fullest possible help in every conceivable way.

TRAMWAY STRIKE.

The strike has ended. The disputes have been settled amicably. Upon the terms now conceded settlement could have been effected on the very first day I interviewed Mr. Quinn, and authoritatively placed the men's demands before him. But events soon disclosed that the obstacle was Mr. Quinn himself, who imagined that he was dealing with the wild men of Borneo. The result was the prolongation of the Drama for over 40 days since the interview. And the men looked upon Mr. Quinn as the villain of the drama. With the appearance of the kindly figure of Mr. Lucas the villain vanished. The men have much confidence in him. I wrote to him if he wished to discuss matters with me, but he replied that the policy of the Company was published in the papers. It was Mr. Quinn's offer of the bonus which the men seldom saw, and leave with pay which they never enjoyed. Upon the basis of Mr. C. V. Mehta's conversation with me the settlement could have been arrived at over a fortnight ago; but the stipulation for secrecy simultaneously with the inconsistent declaration of "unconditional surrender" made it impossible. The idea of the strikers' deputation to whom the terms of settlement were to be communicated was a via media which promised settlement. The deus ex machina was Mr. Mehta to whom am grateful. I do not wish to comment upon the conduct of the Company while feeling is still at the point of ebullition. But I should like to observe for the information of the Directors that the men are far from satisfied and that they have agreed to resume work merely out of loyalty to me. The situation therefore demands tact, and kindness in a liberal measure. I should like them to realise that I have myself not pressed for certain demands which are reasonable to avert the inevitable outburst of violence. Every day's delay made me more apprehensive. I would take this opportunity of inviting H. E. the Governor's attention to the lesson I have learnt from this strike.

STRIKE LESSON.

The lesson is this. Slavery is abolished. Wage-slavery is not abolished. Society prescribes no remedy for a settlement of dispute between Capital and Labour in India. Capital can enslave Labour by the power of the purse. Unions are useless when Masters decline to discuss with them on business lines. In fact Unions help the owners by keeping the men within the bounds of law and preventing recourse to violence. Under the circumstance the lesson I learn is that where such conditions prevail the disputants must settle their grievances by the primitive method of the combat. And personally I have no doubt that the Tramway strikers incensed by the conduct of the Danda Fauj, and the action of the police would have furnished a terrific lesson on the value of violence before long. But thank Heaven the strike has ended before the general interests of the community were "imminently and dangerously affected." But is it not time to revise this policy and provide remedy to secure justice without violence and the barbarism of starvation. One word more before I close. The Tramway Company would act wisely if they cooperate with the Tramway Union in future instead of keeping it at arm's length. The men are now deeply attached to their Union. They realise the value of Unions. They are so fond of it that they demand a Union Medal which they can proudly pin on their breast. Verbum Sap. Will the Police withdraw the case against the strikers and promote peace?

JOSEPH BAPTISTA.

ARRESTED STRIKERS' CASE.

15 DISCHARGED: 37 ENLARGED ON BAIL.

The case against the arrested strikers again came on for hearing on Saturday before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, at the Esplanade Police Court, when also the Court was packed with a crowd of spectators.

Prosecuting Inspector Finan conducted the prosecution while Mr. K. F. Nariman, pleader, Mr. Dhunjishaw, Bar-at-Law, Mr. Haji, Bar-at-Law, and Mr. Deshpande, pleader, instructed by Mr. Ginwalla, solicitor, appeared for the accused.

ARMED POLICEMEN'S EVIDENCE.

Murali Singh Suraj Bukhash, Armed Policeman, No. 1887, deposed that he was present at the maidan on the morning of the 15th instant. He arrested accused No 38 when he was ordered to arrest. A "Barrister" had asked the people to sit down, but they were running. He did not know the name of the "Barrister." There were many people and he did not see any Magistrate. There were about two or three thousand people.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nariman, the witness said when the "Barrister" asked the men to sit down they all sat down. When the men sat down the "Saheb" asked him to arrest and he arrested accused No. 38. When they tried to make arrests, the men began to run away, and so the police surrounded them. This happened at Dhobi Talao. When the "Barrister" had asked the men to sit down many other people also shouted "sit down," "sit down."

To the Court the witness said he heard voice asking the people to sit down and the people were saying that it was a "Barrister's" voice. He did not see the "Barrister" himself.

Replying to Mr. Nariman, the witness said he did not see any Magistrate there. He did not hear any order to disperse, when the men were near Dhobi Talao. He heard the order to sit down.

Putlaji Trimbak, another Armed Policeman, said he arrested accused No. 29, when he was sitting in the maidan with others. The Magistrate had asked the men to go and because they would not go, the police were asked to arrest them.

Armed Policeman, No. 2988, said he arrested accused No. 21.

Sub-Inspector Karnik said he was on duty at the Esplanade Police Station, on the 15th instant. He remembered the accused being brought to the Police Station. They were 52 in all. They were brought by various officers and men. Subsequently he entered them in the charge sheet and whilst in custody he took their thumb impressions.

Prosecution evidence was concluded at this stage. In all 36 accused persons were identified and several of them were identified two or three times over. Only those of the accused who were identified, were asked to make their statements.

STATEMENTS OF ACCUSED.

Accused No. 6, said when the Magistrate gave order to disperse at the maidan, Keshavrao, the first accused, told that if they did not disperse within five minutes they would be arrested. The men were then walking away. When they came to the corner of the maidan they heard some one shouting "sit down", "sit down." They sat down, and were immediately arrested.

To the Court, the accused said he did not hear Mr. Oliveira giving any order to disperse, when they were near Dhobi Talao.

Accused No. 9, said people were reading papers in the maidan and he was sitting there. He saw the people rise and walk. Keshav, the first accused, begged of them to go. While going, some people sat at the corner of the maidan. Keshav ran to see why they were sitting there, when the men were arrested.

Replying to the Court the accused said he did not hear the Magistrate asking them to disperse.

Accused No. 11, stated when the other people were going towards Dhobi Talao he followed them. Near Dhobi Talao all the men stood and he also stood. He did not hear the Magistrate giving any order.

MR. OLIVEIRA'S "ORDER NOT HEARD."

Accused Nos. 12 and 13 also made statements to the same effect. None of them admitted having heard Mr. Oliveira, giving any order to disperse.

Accused No. 14, who was only a lad said when he went to the maidan the Saheb came there and asked them to disperse within five minutes. Keshav also asked them to go. When they began to disperse, some sat down. Keshav then ran to the Saheb and asked for some time. The Saheb said he could give only two minutes. Keshav then took out his cap and begged of other men to go. A Saheb in khaki then signalled to them to sit down.

To the Court the lad said when they were being arrested he was near the well, and did not hear the Magistrate giving any order of arrest.

Accused No. 16, another lad of twelve said when they went to Dhobi Talao, Saheb in khaki asked them to sit down and as soon as they sat down they were arrested.

Accused No. 17 also said that a Saheb in khaki with the letters "I.P." on both shoulders, and a belt, asked them to sit down when they were near Dhobi Talao.

To the Court the accused said at the time when they were arrested, Mr. Oliveira was talking with another Saheb. He did not order them to disperse.

The rest of the accused also made similar statements and none, except accused No. 55, stated to have heard Mr. Oliveira to give them order to disperse near Dhobi Talao.

Accused No. 35, gave them order to disperse near Bori Bunder and they were going towards Chowpatty. But when near Dhobi Talao somebody asked them to sit down.

Replying to the Court he said he heard Mr. Oliveira, giving order to disperse. But as at the same time he saw others sitting he also sat.

Accused No. 47, an old man stated that he was going towards Dhobi Talao where there was a big crowd. Some people were running and he fell down. Many men went over him. He became unconscious and when he regained consciousness h found himself in Police custody.

He showed several bruises in the Court.

The Magistrate at this stage ordered those accused who were not identified to be acquitted as the evidence before the Court did not demand a prima facie case against them and fifteen of them were then let off.

The rest of the accused were ordered to be enlarged on bail and cash security of Rs. 100 for each of them. Mr. Ginwalla, stood surety and deposited the requisite amount.

The case was then adjourned to 23rd instant.

THE NATIONAL SCRIPT.

LETTER FROM MR. GANDHI.

(TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE.")

Sir,—I have just read the "Express" extract reproduced by you attributing to me the opinion that Urdu should be the national script. Somebody has evidently perpetrated a joke at my expense; for I have never entertained any such opinion. What I have said to my friend and fellowworker Hasrat Mohani is that in any scheme of national education Devanagri and Urdu script should be compulsory. My opinion is that Devanagri is the most scientific and perfect script in the world and is therefore from that standpoint the most suitable national script. But I see no way out of the difficulty of Mussalmans accepting it at the present moment. I therefore feel that the educated classes should know either script equally well. That which has greater vitality and is easier will then become the national script, especially when the Hindu and Mussalman masses as well as classes have ceased altogether to distrust one another and have learnt to decide non-religious questions on purely national lines.—Yours, etc.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

(TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE.")

Sir,—Would you kindly spare a short space in the columns of your highly esteemed paper for the following few lines?

For some days the slaughtering of sheep early in the morning in a certain quarter on the Hughes Road has caused great nuisance to all those residing in that locality. The piercing bleating, frightfully disturbs the sleep and the dirty smell and the hideous appearance of the slaughtered sheep hung on the trees gives a very miserable aspect to the road.

Will not the proper authorities, then take prompt measures to stop this nuisance?

Bombay, Nov. 6.

A PROTEST.

(TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE.")

Sir,—At a time when the movement of Non-Cooperation is in full swing in the country, and efforts are being made to free our schools and colleges from Government control, it is extremely regrettable to observe that the Bombay Anjuman-i-Islam are inviting his Excellency the Governor of Bombay to preside over the prize-distribution ceremony of the Anjuman-i-Islam High School to be held on Monday, the 22nd instant. I have got the highest regard and respect for Sir George Lloyd in his individual capacity, but as a representative of a Government who have done wrong to the Indian Muslims in a purely religious matter—the Khilafat—his conducting the prize-distribution ceremony of an Islamic institution is certainly undesirable from the Islamic viewpoint, and even inconsistent with the unanimous decision of the Ulamas of Islam. One would simply wonder at the action of the School Board of management that instead of considering the question of rejecting the Government grant in obedience to the commandments of God, they have decided to invite the representative of the Government to preside over the prize-distribution of the school. The members of the Anjuman are mostly "Ji Huzurs." Some of them are even members of our Khilafat Committee, though two of them who possess the title of Khan Bahadur, have recently tendered their resignations. One of these Khan Bahadurs happens to be the Secretary of the Anjuman. Whatever may be his personal views in the matter, he ought not to have ignored the feelings and sentiments of the general Muslim public of Bombay. But he has deliberately disregarded the feelings of his co-religionists.

I, therefore, deem it my bounden duty to request the parents of the boys not to allow their children to attend the prize-distribution and to receive prizes at a school which is receiving Government grant.

Each and every follower of Islam is bound, under the religious obligations of his Faith, to abide by the Fatwas of the prominent Ulamas of Islam regarding the education of his children under the existing circumstances. Some important questions were put to Shaikhul-Hind Maulana Mahmoodul Hasan Sahib by the Aligarh students. A portion of his reply runs as under:—

"Our object is only this that to give assistance to or to receive assistance from the Government is the same thing under Non-Cooperation. Hence my reply to your questions would be this that Government grants given to schools and Government scholarships given to students should all be rejected. And the children need no permission from their parents in the matter; on the contrary it is their right to respectfully request their parents to withdraw all co-operation from the Government. Certain difficulties and doubts, which were felt by the students, were also felt by the believers during the life-time of the Holy Prophet of Islam. Consequently they requested the Holy Prophet that if they severed their connections with the unbelievers, they would be compelled to leave their parents, brothers and other relations, their trades would suffer, their properties would be ruined, and their dwellings would be deserted. In reply to that God said: "Say: If your fathers and your sons and your brethren and your mates and your kinsfolk, and property which you have acquired, and trade the dullness of which you fear, and dwellings which you like, are dearer to you than Allah and His Apostle and striving in his way, then wait till Allah brings about His command; and Allah does not guide the transgressing people."

In conclusion I hope that not only the boys would abstain from receiving prizes, but no true Muslim would attend the gathering.—Yours, etc.,

AHMED HAJI SIDDICK KHATRI,
Hon. Secretary,
Central Khilafat Committee of India,
Bombay.

LATEST CABLES.

LONDON-AUSTRALIA EXCHANGE.

TRADE SERIOUSLY ENDANGERED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.
Recd. Midnight No. 21.

The Federation of British Industries has sent a letter to Sir W. Fisher, High Commissioner for Australia, with regard to the serious exchange position between London and Australia, which is seriously endangering the trade between Britain and Australia. It declares that the Australian Exchange Banks not possessing the necessary resources are unable at present to purchase documentary bills on Australia, because hitherto the British Government was the sole purchaser of the staple Australian exports and the sums disbursed on account of these purchases were made available to the Exchange Banks through the Commonwealth Government. The cessation of purchases has radically altered the situation and henceforward the money expended in Britain on the purchases of Australian products will be available in the ordinary course of commerce for financing the export of British goods to Australia. Such finance will not be available until the maturity of drafts upon London in respect of free shipments of the Australian products. Consequently, for three or four months the Australian banks will not have funds to finance the export trade from Britain.

It, therefore, suggests a remedy by the Commonwealth removing the prohibition of export of gold from Australia to Britain and by placing at the disposal of the Australian banks in London the considerable sums which the Commonwealth has at its disposal in Britain, which are at present being withheld from the normal function of financing trade.

GAGGED!

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 20.

The two Calcutta speakers whom the Police Commissioner strictly prohibited from delivering public harangues for one year from 6th November are Nagendranath Bhattacharjee and Durgadas Chatterjee. They are young men and are unknown to the Calcutta public.

It is indeed a pity that our young men, while ready to take secular instruction from foreign teachers and foreign bodies, should hesitate to the religious instruction from them, an instruction which blesses those who give and those who receive it. As Mr. Musroovala of the Satyagrahashram has pointed out in his letter to this paper, it is only the religious teaching given in such schools and colleges that is the salt of the English education. Besides may I point out that the Bible, as from the beginning to the very end of it, is entirely an Eastern book, and that by honouring it we honour the East! As Asiatics the Bible has greater claims on us than on Europeans, and if they honour it shall we Indians who are noted for the spirituality and catholicity of our race fail to do so? Rather we shall honour it the more. Again it must be borne in mind by both Indians who are Asiatics and Europeans that it is only this book which is common to both, and if Asia and Europe ever unite, it will be through this great book. May I also recommend to the notice of these young men the words of Raja Ram Mohun Roy who has justly been styled the Father of modern India and who was one of the greatest men of the country's words that he addressed to students on a similar occasion:—

"Christians like Dr. Harace Haymen Wilson have studied the Hindu Shastras and you know that he has not become a Hindu. I myself have read all the Koran again and again: and has that made me a Musalman? Nay, I have studied the whole Bible, and you know I am not a Christian. Why then do you fear to read it? Read it and judge for yourselves."

It is indeed a great wrong that we do to our religious instincts and susceptibilities that while we welcome with all heart European literature, science and political thought, we should refuse to do the same if not more with regard to the Bible which is not only the source if all that is best in European learning, but is at the same time an integral part of the spiritual heritage of Asia. What should we think of men who admiring Indian arts and industries and philosophies should refuse to read a book like the Bhagwad-Gita simply because it is the religious book of the people? To say the least we should take them to be altogether intolerant, and blind to the best side of a thing.

May I request at the same time, through these columns the Principal of the Wilson College to reconsider his action in connection with those students whom he has dismissed from the College for taking an active part in this agitation, provided they promise to cease to do so any more?—Yours etc.

OLD WILSONIAN.

MACSWINEY'S INQUEST.

JURY'S VERDICT.

NO MENTION OF SUICIDE.

The Coroner's jury who on October 27, investigated at Brixton Urison the death of the Lord Mayor of Cork found that death was "due to heart failure consequent upon the refusal to take food." The medical evidence showed that when Mr. MacSwiney became unconscious or semi-conscious he was given suitable nourishment and took a very fair quantity of it. Forcible feeding would it was declared, have killed him almost at once.

It will be noted that the jury did not return a verdict of felo-de-se—the finding of the military inquiry on both the Cork hunger-strikers who have died—or of suicide whilst of unsound mind, but followed simply the medical evidence.

The Coroner was Dr. G. P. Wyatt. Mrs. MacSwiney, Miss May MacSwiney, and her brother, Mr. Sean MacSwiney, were present. Others who were admitted to the prison were Mr. Hogarty, Secretary to the Lord Mayor, the Town Clerk of Cork, Mr. S. W. Macarthy, City Solicitor of the Cork Corporation, Mr. H. J. Galvin, and Mr. Art. O'Brien.

The Lady Mayoress, who was dressed in deep black, was the first witness. She said that Terence James MacSwiney was her husband and was 40 years of age.

The Coroner: What was his occupation?—An Irish Volunteer.

What does that mean? Did he earn his living by that?—No.

Had he any trade?—He was a teacher years ago.

Can you call that his occupation?—He has done nothing for years except work for his country—Ireland.

I do not know how you can exactly describe that as an occupation.—You can describe him as an Irish Volunteer.

You can hardly call that an occupation.

Don't you call the post of an officer in your army an occupation?—Yes, in the regular army, but that is a different thing altogether.

I dont know quite how you can call this on occupation.—I see no difference.

Would you say Volunteer officer?—Yes.

The Coroner then apparently accepted this dernition of Alderman MacSwiney's occupation.

Mr. McDonnell, for relatives, asked Mrs. MacSwiney when her husband first went on hunger strike.

She replied: On the day that he was arrested—August 12. He was court-martialled on August 16.

Mr. McDonnell: Had the Lord Mayor any wish to die?—No, none whatever. He told everyone that he did not wish to die but to be unconditionally released.

Mr. McDonnell: Why did he go on hunger strike?—Because they had no right to arrest him. He went on hunger strike as a protest against being arrested, which is an offence against the law of the Irish Republic.

Mr. McDonnell: You mean the arrest was an offence?

Mrs. MacSwiney (emphatically): Yes, certainly.

UNBROKEN REFUSAL TO TAKE FOOD.

Dr. Griffiths ,senior medical officer at the prison, told the story of Alderman MacSwiney's illness. Mr. MacSwiney came under his charge personally on September 1, because he was away when the Lord Mayor was first brought to Brixton. He was found to be in a weak condition, having been on hunger strike for some days. There were signs of pulmonary tuberculosis. He consistently refused to take food all the time he was at Brixton.

The Coroner: Was he doing it with the idea of killing himself or only as a means to try to get away?

The witness: He told me he would get out of prison dead or alive.

Dr. Griffiths added that Mr. MacSwiney's bodily condition deteriorated slowly within a few days of his death. On October 11 he showed signs of scurvy. Food was always by the side of the bed for him to have. After scurvy supervened orange and lemon juice were also placed at the side of the bed. He could have taken it had he wished, but he refused to take it from the witness. There were always all sorts of nourishment left at the bedside and necessary remedies, and there were trained nurses there all the time to administer them to him.

"Symptoms of scurvy became worse," continued the doctor, "and he had an attack of acute delirium on October 20. He became very restive in his delirium and struggled violently. It was necessary to get two male nurses to keep him in bed. After that he had periods of semi-consciousness, unconsciousness, and turns of delirium."

On October 22 the witness noticed that his heart was becoming very weak and dilated. When he became unconscious or semi-conscious the witness gave him food.

The Coroner: That you were bound to do? Yes; and that I told him I should do.

Mr. MacSwiney was fed with suitable nourishment and took a very fair quantity of it, and was apparently going on fairly well.

Between two and three o'clock on the morning of October 25, the day he died, Dr. Griffiths was roused from bed to see him. "I got there about three in the morning. I found his breathing was laboured, his pulse very fevered and quick. He was obviously in a very critial condition. I did what I could but having got to the end of my resources and seeing he was going to die I told the priest who came to see him. He died at 5-30 on the 25th. In my opinion his death was due to heart failure following scurvy, due to exhaustion arising from prolonged refusal to take food."

A juryman: He could and would have been fed had he wished at any time during his imprisonment?

The doctor: I repeatedly asked him to take food. He always refused.

Mr. McDonnell: You say you told the Lord Mayor that when he became delirious he would be fed. Do you remember his reply?

"PROLONGING THE AGONY."

The witness (reading from his notes): I explanined to him and his wife that the reason he was not fed then was that he was not fit, but that after he became collapsed or unconscious or incapable of exercising his will power and struggling I should use every means in my power to revive him by giving him anything I thought fit. They both agreed that that was the proper course. I told him I could not stand by with my hands in my pockets let him die.

Mr. McDonnell: Did he agree that you should feed him?

Dr. Griffiths: He agreed it was the proper course for me as a doctor to take. I should add that he told me when he became conscious again he would refuse food, but he agreed that it was my duty as a doctor to do it. He did not agree to take food, but agreed that it was my duty. He said: "On regaining consciousness I should then refuse, and it would only be prolonging the agony."

Mr. McDonnell: In your opinion and from the various conversations you have had, if the Lord Mayor had been released he would have done his best to recuperate his health?

Dr. Griffiths: He told me himself that if he was released he would take food.

Sir Richard Muir (for the Treasury Solicitor): Are you aware that in August Dr. Treadwell read the following statement from the Home Secretary to the deceased?—

Terence MacSwiney,—I am directed by the Secretary of State to solemnly warn you that you will not be released, and that you alone will be responsible for any consequences that may ensue from your persistence in refusing to take food.

Dr. Griffiths: I am cognisant of that statement.

Sir Richard Muir stated that the prisoner's reply was, "I have been told this in Cork."

Sir Richard Muir: In your opinion, would it have prolonged or shortened Mr. MacSwiney's life to have forcibly fed him?

Dr. Griffiths: I think it would have killed him almost at once.

THE VERDICT.

The Coroner, in summing up, said: Did Mr. MacSwiney deliberately intend to put an end to his own life by refusing to take food That is answered to a certain extent by the doctors themselves that the deceased really wanted to get out, and not to kill himself. Secondly, did he intend to kill himself by refusing food because his mind was unbalance to such an extent that he did not fully realise what would happen from refusing food?

In the first case it would amount to a verdict of felo-de-se, and in the other it might mean a verdict of suicide whilst of unsound mind.

Thirdly, if they thought he refused food with the idea that by so doing he would obtain his release without any intention of carrying it to the extreme of killing himself, but tha in his physical condition death ensued, that would really mean an open verdict..

After retiring for fifteen minutes the jury found that Mr. MacSwiney died from heart, failure consequent upon his refusal to take food.

The jury expressed the unanimous opinion that the whole of the prison officials carried out their duties under distressing circumstances to the best of their ability.

The Coroner amplified the verdict to read that death was due to heart failure, dilates heart, acute delirium, following scurvy, due to exhaustion from prolonged refusal to take food.—"The Manchester Guardian."

MR. SHASTRI'S DISCOVERY.

TWO DIFFERENT SWARAJS.

(Associated Press.)

MADRAS, Nov. 20.

The Hon. Mr. V. S. Srinvasa Shastri addressed a large gathering of public at Mangalore, the theme of the lecture being "The Non-Cooperation movement of Mr. Gandhi" and he invited the audience to a proper study and understanding of Mr. Gandhi's gospel of which his present movement was only a part and was only one of the means adopted for realising that gospel. He also explained how Mr. Gandhi's swaraj was entirely different from the Swaraj which the overwhelming majority of the Indians, even the most extreme of the extremists desired for the country, not only was such a swaraj impossible of attainment, but was attended with grave dangers which might plunge the country into chaos and misery from which it would take a long time for her to recover.

"All collections of the Khilafat Fund including the Ali Brothers' Purse Fund the Smyrna Relief Fund the "Muslim Outlook" subscription and sale proceeds of Khilafat literature from the beginning of January 1920, to the end of September 1920, amounts to Rs. 532,373-10-6 only, while the total expenditure, under the various heads shown, in the statement to be soon published, amounts to Rs. 202,921-8-7 only, leaving a credit balance of Rs. 230,052-1-11 only.

Accounts have been regularly kept in detail, and strictly audited by chartered accountants, and are being sent to the press for publication. One lakh of rupees has been proposed to be sent for Smyrna sufferers, and another lac of rupees for the relief of Muhajrins, in Afghanistan.

More money is urgently needed for the Khilafat, Smyrna, Muhajrin, and National Education, and the support of families of the Khilafat workers sent to prison. It is earnestly requested that the Khilafat Committees will start vigorous propaganda for the collection of funds. The public, we have every hope and confidence, will readily respond.

The Committee is very grateful to Seth Chotani Sahib for having borne all expenses of the Khilafat office staff and guests, in the early period of the Khilafat work."

A Bassein message of Nov. 17 says, out of 561 Bassein urban voters only four voted, out of 857 Rural voters only one, voted but out of 108 Mohommedan electors, not a single one voted.

The Clan Stuart left Liverpool day on Saturday evening.

"MUST DO WITHOUT EDUCATION"!

PLIGHT OF A BHANGI'S SON.

ROHRI MUNICIPALITY'S DECISION.

(Associated Press.)

KARACHI, Nov. 19.

A Bhangi of Rohri has for some time been trying to secure admission of his son to the Municipal vernacular school. On being refused, he sought intervention of the Educational Inspector in Sind, who suggested to the Municipality that the boy should be admitted to the school and given a separate seat. At its last meeting, however, the Municipal Board resolved that such boys cannot be admitted and the Bhangi's son must, therefore, do without education.

LAJPATRAI DISAPPOINTED.

OPEN LETTER TO SIR E. MACLAGAN.

(Associated Press.)

LAHORE, Nov. 19.

In the course of an open letter to Sir Edward Maclagan, Lala Lajpat Rai reviews and criticises the speech recently delivered by the Lieut.-Governor before an informal Conference of the members of the Punjab Legislative Council and says that his speech has disappointed him as it entirely ignores the real point at issue between the people and the Government and he concludes thus:—

The fact is, Sir Edward, that we are poles asunder. Yet we do not want hatred or disunion nor violence. We are determined to prevent violence so long as our influence can prevent it; but we are equally determined to continue and push on our propaganda for Swaraj, whatever be the consequence. If the Government is really anxious for the "good-will and peace" there is only one way to secure it. Let us know definitely what the Government is prepared to do towards getting a modification of the Turkish peace treaty, to give us the responsible Self-Government at once or within the shortest possible time, to put us on the road to organizing national defence, to heal the wounds made by the Punjab atrocities. It is only then that we may talk of good-will and peace.

STUDENTS' CONFERENCE.

APPEAL TO STUDENTS

General Secretary of the working committee of the Students' Conference writes to say:

Brothers, we have announced our decision to hold an All-India College Students' Conference at Nagpur in December and have already made an appeal to you in the Bombay "Chronicle" of 12th November, 1920, and other papers to respond to our call. The necessity of such a conference is too apparent to call for any arguments in its favour. The Calcutta Resolution touches us in part and it is now our duty to decide what we are going to do in reference to that resolution. The N. C. O. Resolution in so far as it affects us will naturally come up for discussion. Again the question of National Education has now come prominently before the public mind and our leaders will have to take it up in all seriousness after the Nagpur Congress. But the question also closely relates to our interests and we cannot shirk our responsibility in the endeavour. These are problems which require joint labour and deliberation without which no concerted action is possible. Let us do whatever we have to do conjointly and not in an isolated manner. We therefore strongly hope that the different Colleges of India will send in their delegates in large number who will by their presence and representative character, add weight and importance to the proceedings of the Conference and thus make it a success.

Delegation forms are ready and can be had on application to the following address. Delegation fee is Rs. 2.

It will be convenient for us if each College wishing to represent itself in the Conference send us at an early date the approximate number of its delegates.

Any suggestions regarding the subjects to be discussed in the conference are invited.

SIR. C. MUNRO'S FAREWELL MESSAGE.

INDIAN SOLDIERS' ACHIEVEMENTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, Nov. 20.

The special army order contains the following farewell message by Sir Charles Munro, retiring Commander-in-Chief:—

I desire on vacating my command in India to express to all ranks both British and Indian my high appreciation of services they have rendered to King-Emperor during the period 1916-1920 and in above recognition I include members of the Indian Defence Force representatives of the Munitions Board and all officers of the local Governments, who in their respective spheres worked with such an untiring energy and loyalty to the achievement of the aim that they had in view. Towards the general officers and their staffs I will always retain a deep sense of gratitude. Their work has been exhausting and ceaseless, but whether in the plains or elsewhere their devotion to duty will remain a brilliant example of what can be accomplished by men inspired by an untiring respect for their profession. Units of British service have only recently arrived in India. Representatives as they are of the magnificent old regiments which fought with such splendid valour in all theatres of war with confidence. I entertain opinion that they will follow in foot-steps of their predecessors and worthily maintain great traditions which they have inherited. The task before them is a heavy one. Their duty is not only to excel in performance of their military calling, but to qualify themselves for employment in civil life on termination of their service. The accomplishment of this role is an exacting one, but I am convinced that all the British soldiers will accept their responsibilities and prepare themselves to utmost in order to render themselves highly efficient soldiers and worthy citizens of the Empire. Let them remember to work hard and to play hard and thus to escape temptations unavoidable in Cantonments.

As to the Indian army it would not be possible to overstate their soldierlike and self-denying achievements. In practically all quarters where the Empire was at war, Indian soldiers were present fighting with fortitude and determination. To all officers and other ranks, both British and Indian, I tender grateful and affectionate good-bye and I trust after their splendid efforts in past a period of rest may now await them.

It will have a library attached to it to which Mr. Lajpat Rai's own library valued at Rs. 25,000 which he will present to the school is to form the nucleus. MR. GANDHI AT MALAD.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

MALAD, Nov. 17.

Mr. Gandhi visited Malad this evening to open the proposed school for teaching blacksmiths' and carpenters' work. He arrived at about 8 o'clock by a B. B. & C. I. Railway local train and proceeded direct to the spot of the meeting. Mr. Ismailbhai Kasambhai was voted to the chair.

Opening the proceedings, the President said that he considered it to be his happy privilege to preside on the occasion. The proposed school was for the purpose of teaching technical education and they knew that the prosperity of a country depended to a great extent on its industrial advancement.

The proprietor of the school briefly described the aims and objects of the institution. Mr. Gandhi then declared the school open and addressed the assembly.

He at the outset expressed regret for not being able to come there at the appointed time. He had very short time at his disposal as he had to return to Bombay shortly and he would tell them as briefly as possible whatever he had to say. He was sorry that he had received a complaint from some blacksmiths and carpenters that the proposed school was being started with the object of minimising their importance. He very much regretted that there should have been so much class hatred manifest among their community. He advised the proprietors of the school to carry on their work with vigour and he wished them God-speed. He valued conscience more than anything else and if they had an honest difference of opinion, they should not mind it.

In conclusion, he advised them to learn to stand on their own legs in everything, and to attain this, they had to preach and practise Non-Cooperation. India required national education and not the education given in Government schools.

(FROM OUR SUNDAY EDITION.)

A NEW NOVEL BY MR. HUGH WALPOLE.

THE CAPTIVES, by Hugh Walpole, Macmillan & Co., Ltd., London, 1920.

This is a story where one character is dominant throughout. It is that of Maggie. Cardinal, becoming Trenchard during the course of the story, and to become at the very end—Warlock. She is a plain-looking, simple and strong willed person from Glebeshire. The story opens with her stingy, unaffectionate father dying, leaving her almost penniless. She seems to have felt no affection of any sort for her departed parent. Then she goes and lives with her two aunts, Aunt Anne and Aunt Betty in London. Before very long, however, she finds out that, on account of their religiousness (they are shining lights among the Kingscote Brethren, a religious sect that believes in the Second Coming of Christ), they are insufferable. She meets, however, in London, the one human being, whom she can love in the world, and that person is Martin Warlock. Her love for him is strong, and unalterable, and does not depend for its life upon social conventions. For, when Martin tells her that he is already married to somebody else in France, she simply tells him that she will love him all the same. The lover disappears from the story for a time. Maggie then marries a person by name Paul Trenchard. Her married life at Skeaton is darkened partly by her persistency in continuing to love Martin, and partly by Grace, the strong willed sister of her weak willed husband. Then one day, on hearing that Martin had returned to England and was very ill, she leaves her home and hurries up to the idol of her heart. He does not want her, although his first wife is dead, but she, by her indomitable will and devotion, makes him love her in the end. What her husband at Skeaton felt about his wife's departure and subsequent conduct, we are only left to guess by the author.

The title is superficially very suggestive Every one of the characters in the book is supposed to be a 'captive.' But if all of us are 'captives' in society, does it mean that we should all develop our 'individuality' and escape from it? If that is the ideal of Mr. Walpole, he preaches that form of crude individualism which leads finally to social anarchy. This form of individualism, we might add, so beloved of the Anglo Saxon peoples at present, is the result hazy thinking. The Englishman is never truly logical. He will praise the hero who defies social and other conventions for the sake of 'liberty', but he cannot see and admit that perfect social, intellectual and spiritual liberty can be attained only by the renunciation of the world—that is, by the ascetic

The style of the author is pleasant and even powerful. He is fond of short sentences, which, when they succeed each other rapidly, produce by their cumulation, a pictorial effect on the reader's mind. He is a good psychologist, knowing the art of developing a character by a succession of incidents and events. His senses, like those of the majority of British writers, are poor and dull. His pictures, therefore, do not vibrate with a strong life or shine with the magic of brilliant colours—like those of a D'Annunzio or a Pierre Loti. He almost laughs at Religion in this book, but he has nothing better to offer in its place than egoistic notions of 'right' and 'wrong' Such work can only be 'clever' but never enduring. It will be read by many thousands to-day, but it may not find even ten readers a quarter of a century hence.

THE SOUL OF INDIA.

"INDIA" by Captain E. C. Wingfield-Stratford.

The gallant author of those poems spent four years and a half with the Territorials in India. He came to fight if necessary. Perhaps he had no occasion to do so. He stayed to study the people and their history and civilisation, and his poems are offered as a tribute to the country which he says he has come to love only next to his own. In a preface Rai Bahadur Pandit Radhakrishna testifies that he has not come across another English poet who could understand and interpret more faithfully the ancient civilization of India. This encomium is perhaps not altogether just to facts like Sir Edwin Arnold. As a poet Captain Stratford is not likely to be remembered for a long time. But for his interpretation of Indian thought he deserves the sincere gratitude of the people of this land. Many Englishmen spend the best part of a life time among them, but are not able to see through their eyes. The Captain prays:—

Merciful God have pity on folk without a soul!
I mean the Johnson Smith and Mrs. Pogson Clarke.
And Sir Pontius Pilate and Colonel Moale.
Who walk about at noonday in the dark.

In the land of Temples an Englishman sees idols at every turn. Perhaps he pities the people and wishes at least for better sanitation. The idol, which sits cross-kneed and looks so calm in the plastered niche beyond the village well, suggests different thoughts to different people. First a villager passes by, bows his head, and prays the God "to make his sick cow whole". Then, says Captain Stratford, "the padre comes along and would break the poor thing"—

But the holy fakir gazed,
As through windows, straight to God.
Lost a wanderer came by
And gazed a while and saw

The mirror of what might have been. Perhaps the padre is shocked by the picture of nude milkmaids bathing in a tank and begging their playmate on the tree to return their cloths to them. Captain Stratford accepts the allegorical interpretation of the story and remarks that "only minds illiterate and impure have failed to see the tender symbolism of the parable of the soul coming to her Lord." One of the preteiest of the Captain's songs is put into the mouth of Radha—

Krishna, playmate,
And where art thou?
I see thy cattle,
But thee, not now!
Ages on ages
Above my trance
Thy songs are floating,
I fain would dance.

Englishmen have written beautiful verses on Brahma, Siva, and Maya, on the Indian sunset and the Indian moonlight, on the Taj and other edifices. It is not necessary to compare Captain Stratford's performances with them. Natural phenomena, artistic beauty, and the riddles of the universe are common ground on which all poets, Eastern and Western, meet. A characteristic story which Captain Startford has related in verse is that of Tulsi Das, who saw the uplifted axe of a rustic about to fall on a lusty cypress tree, and cried "Good Sir, I beseech thee, slay not me." The rustic was perplexed and the devotee explained—

Am I not God, and you and every tree?
And can you strike at any life at all,
And I not wounded? I beseech you, stay
This mortified worn body, not this part
Of me, this delicate, dark thought of green,
This pensiveness in laughter, symbol meet
Of life in death"—and so the tree was spared.

Several interestinig episodes of Indian history and personages of glorious memory have inspired Captain Stratford's poems. A poet is apt to imagine that the most sordid minds have something of the poet in them. So a Maratha freebooter is made to justify his trade in this wise—

Surya hath a golden crown,
Looks on the trees and stamps his own
Silver coinage on the leaves.
Bania men by the banyan trees
Have no eyes for coins like these,
But blink at Aurangazeb's rupees;
Wherefore we clip the thieves.

It is not surprising that the poet should see the love of God in "the dark, blood-

WHAT LAWYERS READ.

"FROM AN INDIAN BAR ROOM." by F. W. Dillon, Barrister-at-Law—Published by Butterworth & Co., Ld., Calcutta.

This is a collection of sketches, talks, and tales, originally contributed to the columns of a newspaper. The writer is evidently fond of the speculative side of science and has read much of the latest teachings of natural philosophers. Whether his Mookerjee is a real or fictitious character it is not easy to say. In his English the Bengali is old fashioned, but he too is enthusiastic about the theory of evolution and psychic phenomena. Mr. Dillon is a lawyer and examines the stories told by Spiritualists with the penetration and scepticism of a legend mind. The articles on law and lawyers are numerous, as indeed are most of these contributions. There is certainly a comic element in the uncertainty of law caused by the difference of opinion between the different High Courts on points which arise in very common transactions. The difference is attributed to codification on the one hand, and on the other to the absence of a Supreme Court of Appeal in India itself which can do the duty of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. It may be added that the Legislature is not sufficiently alive to the necessity of setting doubts at rest when High Courts differ. These essays show what kind of literature has special attractions to lawyers of literary inclinations and provide instructive as well as pleasant reading to men of that class.

"NOT FOR FOOLS."

"NOT FOR FOOLS" by H. Dennis Bradley. (Grant Richards Ltd., London.). 10s. 6d.

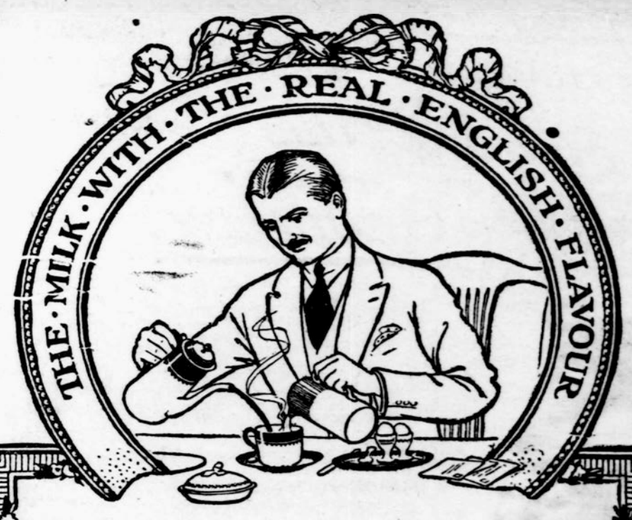
This book contains a collection of articles which were published from time to time during the year beginning April 1917. As a commercial man whose business was considered "essential," and coming in contact with hundreds of men both soldiers and civilians, Mr. Bradley had a unique opportunity of studying the wasteful, stupid, selfish methods of the "old men" bureaucrats at home and the result of those methods on the young men in the trenches.

For three years he watched and kept silence until he could bear it no longer; then, through the medium of the Advertisement columns of the Press he made a powerful and courageous protest. The ordinary channels were of course closed to him by D.O.R.A. Even thus, he ran a serious risk of being "put money," but he was encouraged by thousands of letters from people grateful to him for expressing their feelings on the useless waste of young lives and the financial ruin which threatened as a result of the rule of the muddlers.

In all, nine articles appeared in this series, and very stirring reading they make. The book also contains other essays and many witty aphorisms, besides some charming designs by Rilette and Jacques d'Or.

THE "NAVROZ."

The Diwali number of the "Navroz" of Calcutta contains a variety of informing articles by some of the well-known Gujerati writers. The photos given therein are excellent. Altogether the number is attractive and it ought to prove popular among the Gujerati readers of Calcutta and other parts of the Bengal Presidency in particular.



Your Breakfast Coffee will be a real joy—if you prepare half-and-half with hot, rich Glaxo —the milk with the real English flavour.

Glaxo is the rich milk of British-bred dairy cows from which the water has been removed by the Glaxo Process. This process presents the nourishing solids of the milk in the form of a dry powder, which, packed in a parchment bag inside an airtight sealed tin, comes to you across the seas with all its freshness and flavour unimpaired.

All you have to do is to add boiling water only (a half-pint to three dessertspoonfuls of Glaxo). Mix as much as you require when you require it—the rest will keep for a considerable period, if the tin be kept tightly closed and in a cool place.

FOR PRINCE AND RICH MEN ONLY.
Royal Yakuti.
This Yakuti or life giving nectar has been prepared from the best, choicest, and richest vegetable drugs. It has wonderful proportion of increasing virile power and it rectified urinary disorders. In fact it makes man man. This valuable medicine is used large quantities not only by our Rajas, Maharajas, Nawabs and many of the nobility, aristocracy and gentry in this Country, but it is greatly patronized by people in all countries of Europe, America, Asia and Africa. It is needless to expatiate upon the magical qualities of this our invaluable medicine. We recommend it especially to those persons who desire to tone the nervous system, to strengthen the body, refresh the memory, and to guard against debility. suffice it to say that the use of this medicine is recommended to those who have any faith in the Ayurvedic medicines. It works like a charm and the effect is lasting. It replaces lost power and rejuvenates the emaciated and it is enough to say that, musk is not that which a perfumer admires. It is that which diffuses fragrance of its own accord. Price per tin containing 40 pills. Rupees ten only (13s. 4d.)

S. A. S.

With apologies to the poet of "EXCELSIOR."

The shades of night were falling fast
As through an Indian village passed
A youth who bore 'mid doleful cries
A bottle with the strange device,
"S. A. S."

A forehead high, bright eyes, beneath
Both confidence in mankind breathe
And like a silver clarion rung
The accents of a foreign tongue,
"S. A. S."

In homes forlorn he saw no light
Of household fires that once were bright
At every door he heard a moan
But one reply he gave each groan,
"S. A. S."

"Oh for a charm!" an old man said,
"Death hovers o'er my daughter's head,
For Fever's jaws are gaping wide."
To which the youthful voice replied,
"S. A. S."

"My child," the mother said, "do rest
Thy feverish head upon my breast."
The maiden while the youth did spy
And took the bottle with a sign,
"S. A. S."

"Beware, O child, thy withered frame!
Beware," said Doubt, "a wizard's game!
Or bid thy parents last good-night."
"Try," cried Faith from heaven's height,
"S. A. S."

At break of day all in a band
The elders of this fever-land
Out to temple for their prayer
Heard on their way the playful air,
"S. A. S."

A damsel by a rippling fount
Her garden fence did early mount
With in her hand she held, the dame,
The bottle with that loved name,
"S. A. S."

Those with the golden beams of day
She mingled the music of her lay;
And still in climes both nigh and far
These words drop like a falling star,
"S. A. S."

FORD
BETHLEHEM
PNEUMATIC
SHOCK ABSORBERS.

Signifies the employment of the elastic properties of air. As applied to the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber, it represents a stage of development and progress in shock-absorber construction insuring greater comfort, safety, economy, and satisfaction in automobiling never before known.

Appreciating the unequalled resiliency and elasticity of air as demonstrated by its efficiency in tires, our engineers, accomplished the heretofore impossible by utilizing air as the basic principle of the Rethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber, and utilizing it in a manner so simple as to enable us to put the price of these absorbers within the reach of every automobile owner.

The Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber is a compressed air cushion. It consists of a steel cylinder in which an air pump having been set in action by an impulse spring gives air pressure which is automatically maintained by the up-and-down movement of the car as it passes over ruts and bumps.

The Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber gives one air cushion to take up the rebound. These air cushions take up the jolts and smooth out the road, saving the springs of the car by permitting them to act only when spring action is necessary. The driver is given a feeling of thorough steadiness and security, because the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber eliminates all car-racking and spring-buckling lurch—not only the straightaway shocks and rebounds, but the annoying and dangerous side-aways. Greater speed is thus possible with safety; tire pounding is eliminated; and the motor freed from unnecessary jars.

The Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber is simple in construction. So long as nature supplies us with air the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber must work. It has no constantly used springs to crystallize. It is quickly and conveniently applied.
